LID GOES ON TIGHT IN STANFORD TOWN

CITY FATHERS ORDER EVERY. THING CLOSED UP SUNDAYS BUT DRUG STORES

Sundays.

This was the decree of the Clif Fa- He was a Modern Woodman and had Sunday closing was rigidly enforced The state law provides that only ne- at 4 o'colck Thursday alternoon. cessities of life can be sold on the Sabbath, and such things as lee cold soda jop, pies and cakes, chewing as necessities and Ins so given intrink sellers and others who have leit compelled to keen open on Sunthat they are glad that this order has been entered and that all will be forced to close for it will give them sud their employes a much needed rest on the Sabhath.

The vote in the Council was very close on the enforcement of the Sunday closing law and it required the vote of Mayor A. B. Plorence to break the tie. The vote in the council stood son and Allen. Against-Council nen Elmore, l'owell and Pence.

For-Councilmon Shugars, ander-

M'KINNEY LADY

MRS. ACKERMAN KNOCKED IN-SENSIBLE AND HURT-OTH-

McKinney, July 7. White making a running switch fasti Ackerman, by knocking her down and has no efted the place. hadly bruising her about the head and Miss Louise Green, of Perryville, shoulders, and she was picked up in was the guest last week of Mrs. Itali. valuable possession liv the way, the an insensible condition. The most se- ex rious wound was close to her right] car and caused quite a ben orrhage of popular hotel painted siter its bap the ear. At present writing she is do-tism from the fires on as many differ ing very well and according to Dr ent sides the past few years. Singleton's statement, will, if nothing looking at the engine and did not see sumption.

sition as bookkeeper at Lanvilla for Aa., are here with relatives. the East Teunessee Telephone Co.

ter, of Winchester, are visiting Mr. Roberts. and Mrs. K. L. Tanner.

rick list all last week but at present John Itonton. is much better and able to be around the house most of the time. of Memphis, Tenn, are visiting Mr and Mrs. Sam Owens. Mr. Garland Singleton, of Stanford, was in town last Monday.

Mr. Harry Jacobs, the monument man, closed a contract a few duys ago with D. S. Itime for an elaborate- taurant, ly carved granite monument for his Hustonville cemetery, and also with week. Mrs. George Cochran, of Kidd's Stor. for a large marble arch monument for her home in Shelby City. her husband to be placed in the Poplar Grove cemetery.

Mrs. George Ashlock and children. of Enstonville, were in town just week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Coffey and Arthur and Willie Coffey, Mr. and Mrs Harry Jucobs and daughter, Mrs Cocking and several other of our citi zens spent the Fourth of July at Elix-Ir Springs and all report a good time.

Nora B. Johnson, of King's Moun tom, is visiting Mrs. Norman True, cut again after a severe spell of sick Sunday. Mr. Prnitt has been cuploy Mr. Arthur Davidson Is able to be HORR.

Mr. Elmer Gooch, of Indianapolis, Ind, and H. C. Goods, of Soner et. are visiting their sisters, Miss Alice Belle and Anna Goech.

Ar. Herman Gans was in Somer set this week Alisa Mary D. Hamilton, of Danville, who has been the guest of her sister. Mrs. C. B. Colen an was called to South erset. Wednesday on account of the

Mr. Everett Epperson, of Litchfield, III., represnting the Belknan Hardware Company, spent afew days with lils parents bere last week. Miss Florence Epperson has returned from an extended visit to friends and relatives at Columbia and Leban- the Hubble Christian church Sunday latter place.

Fromment Man Dead At Junction City

Junction City, July8. A. J. Haggart aged 83 years, who was operated on for Long trouble als The lid goes on tight in Stanford on Wednesday, that his name here that same afternoon about 4 o'clock.

thers at a meeting held Thursday $1,000 insurance in the order. He te night, when the City Marshal was di- survived by his wife and tive little rected to see that the state law on girls, the oldest eight years of age. The learnal took place at Junction t'ity jupils of Prof. E. L. Grubbs, took the examination for graduation in May, gum and the like don't go. The City two months after school and both se-Council will recognize only medicines cured diplomas entitling them to a four years' high school course either I am about to engage in husiness. I liailey and W. C. Pettus. at Stanford or Hustonville.

Prof. E. L. Grubbs, who taught as trincipal of the Moreland high school last year, was re-elected as principal day because their competitors do, say icr next year at an increased salary. Miss Fannie Spears, an experienced tencher of Moreland, will have charge of the primary department

> Mr. Wm. Barke, Jr., of Cincinnati, s among old school mates here. Kis father's family live at Prostonsburg. Misses Itu'h Turner, of McKinney and Patty Bell lturke, of Bryantsville, > are the guests of Mrs. S. W. Burke wo children, Thos. A., Jr., and Katherine, of Cynthiana, are the guests of Squire and Mrs. Cox.

Mr. Ellas Le Fever got the contract to huild the wholesale (branch) house for the Cumberland Grocery Compsny, of Burnside. He will huild it just STRUCK BY CAR in the rear of John Moore's photo gal-

> , that i'er son, M. A. Harper, of Salisowing an operation for appendicitis " ww anich r' all

Mr P." Millian has resigned us Siturday morning the Q & local but cerk it to Sheby & Sweeney car struck and seriously injured Mrz | wholesale grecery and Henry Adkins

Mr G. D. McColium is having his

Miss Kate Vanarsdall of Little book else seis in, be out in a tew days Ark, is the guest of her sister. Mrs. The lady is hard of hearing and was Lou Dwens, who is very ill of con-

Mrs Willie Townley thee Vanara Miss Mue Jones has accepted a po- dali) and husband, of ltirmingham.

Misses Muggle and Elizabeth Cox Miss lissle Gray, of Dallas, Texas, spent the Fourth at Maywood, the and Mrs. Henry Nunnelley and daugh- guests of Misses Grace and Winnie

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Riffe, of iluston-Mrs. Dr. Singleton has been on the ville, spent Sunlay with Mr. and Mrs.

Mrs. J. L. itose, who was buried in Ilustenville last week, was once as Mrs. Collins and son and daughter, sistent state deputy for the Ladies of the Maccabees, and she carried $2,000 insurance with them. She was of on exceedingly lovely disposition and everybody loved "Kate."

Mr. G. D. McCollum has installed a $200 Notional cash register in his res-

Mr. Estes, of Lancaster, is the guest daughter, Amelia, to be placed in the ct tris cousin, Bowen Adams, this

Mrs. Bettie Simpson is very ill at Hattle Leigh is confined to her roonon account of a sprained ankie. A number of the young folks at this piace will attend the picnic at lones' Park hear Middleburg, Saturday, 9th tilvens tarter, of Moreland, was calling here Sunday. Miss Anna Matix is the guest of Mr & Manufe Walls here. Miss Ruth Keane has r turned from Terre Haute, Ind., where she has been in school the past year.

Mr Depp, of Hustonville, was a vicitor to the home Mr. C. L. Pru tt on ed Moreland the jast week.

Messrs. Phomas, Bud and Nick linggard, of King's Mountain, weir with their brother, A. J. Haggard, Telore 14s operation and at his death.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kelley, of Camp Nelson, spent the Fourth with reactives and attended our meeting.

Mr. J. M. Keane and children, John M. Jr., and Lilla (Bobs) spent the past week in iturgin with her two sisters, Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Huwkins.

Mrs. W. G. Sweeney and granddaughter, Miss Gladys Sweeney spent

PREACHING AT HUBBLE

Rev. Samuel Pittman will preach at on, attending the Chautauqua at the the 10th at 11 o'clock A. M. and 7:30 ure to vote for him for governor. P. M. Everybody invited.

GOING INTO THE GROCERY BUSINESS

IN ATLANTA-INTERESTING GEORGIA GOSSIP

Atlanta, tla., July 6.

We were all very much put out took some time to decipier it. Piease Messrs Harvey Hopkins and Ernest 2sk "Corker" Stone to use a little more kins, V. C., T. E. Lyne, K. of R. & S. Ford, Iwo of the Moreland high school ink and impression on the mail tist J. C. Balley, M. of E., H. L. Weils, Preand all will be well. \ > of whom I claim as my friends-that have rented a storeroom at 110 Richardson street and in a few days hone to be selling grocerles "to beat the band." My brother, Mr. T. R. Waiton, who has had many years' experience in the grocery business, will assist me most pleasant one. en a small scale and try to increase ns I learn the work I will not be pre pared to fill orders for my Stanford friends and acquaintances for some weeks yet,so don't mail or wire your orders before Aug. 1st.

I think I stated in a letter several school facilities for negroes were far George Burdette, J. N. Menefee, R. H. l am more convinced of the advantages of the children of the sons of Mrs. Namule Harper received word have seen more of the city. Magnincent brick buildings, erected with bury, N. I'., has gone to t'olorado tol- northern money, are seen on nearly ity. Fortunately the negroes are takns advantage of the spiendid opportunities afforded and many of thein are credits totheir race. The white schools here are first class and a sheepskin from the high school is a first female college ever instituted in the United States is the Wesleyan at Macon, this state. It is still a spienild institution of learning and is to Georgia what the University of Virginin is to the mother state.

Beargia has been spending a million Joilars appually caring for her old Confederate soldiers, but hereafter the amount will be augmented by the sum of $200,000, the legislature having just passed a bill increasing the ap-Propriation that much. There is a magnificent home forthe old Confeds lanta, Ga. near this city where 116 of the sait of the earth are spending their declining years in peace and plenty.

The evil doer sees a hard time in the (racker state. To his work la fue to a great extent the spiendid 101ds that this state has. The convict is not allowed to live in ease in prisan or penitentiary but works the roads every month in the year that the weather will permit. Each coin y is given enough convicts to keep i's roads in good condition and in many of the cities they work the streets. A convict here grew tired of the daily toll and deliberately chopped one of ans hands or. He was sent to the penitentiary hospital for a brief period but just as soon as he was able to get out he was made water carrier. Verily, the life of a Georgia convict is one that none envies.

A magnificent monument has recently been unvelled of that splendid tie. orgian, President Spencer, who was killed in a wreck on the road he was it was hellt by the employes of the rast three o'clock Wednesday after pedestal bears this inscription. "A Leantility decerated in pot idants the first President of the Southern cink and green being carried out most Railway. Erected by the Employes effectively. That company."

There is an officer here who is very sived at the Glyndon Hotel, Rev. Don lose is the hearts of the better election, pastor of the Crab Orchard out of the people. He is Police Judge Christian church officiated. We extend Nash R. Broyles. He is known as the 'posen judge" because he makes it guerite and hoje that much of sun not for those who disregard the law. Especially are the temperance people her along her new life which she has grateful to him for no other light dozen men have done as much toward has been a citizen of our town only nating the prohibition law a success. The manner in which he dispenses justice reminds me very much of my cian of the Crab Orchard Sanitarium a few days in Louisville this week, old friend, Judge Tribble. There are many who think Judge liryoles is gubernatorial timber and it would not surprise many of his friends if he does soon occupy the chief executive's chair. It would afford me great pleas.

(Continued in next issue.)

K. OF P. LODGE AT CRAB ORCHARD

E. C. WALTON BUYS A BUSINESS LOCAL TEAM DOES WORK AND MOST ENJOYABLE SESSION IS HELD

Crab Orchard, July 8.

Blossom Lodge, No. 223, Knights of last week because the Interior Journal l Pythias, was instituted here Thursday of Tuesday did not reach us until Sat-Inight by a degree team from Diadem urday afternoon. The label was not lodge of Stanford and a most enjoy clearly printed and the postal cierks side session was had. Officers for the new lodge were elected as follows:

W. J. Edmiston, C. C., M. M. Perlate, I. W. Fish, M. at A., II. R. Spitler, M. of W., J. S. Duke I. G., Gus Gelszl, O. G., Past Chancellors Dr. W W. Burgin, D. B. Thompson, J.

Dr. II. L. McLean, from Wlinore, was present with a strong team, he having been appointed to institute the lodge. Refreshments were served aitdies were present, this feature being a

The list of members besides the officers of the lodge is: Marshall Newland, Dr. J. A. Harman, J. G. Carpenter, Jr., Walter Rogers, Roht, Holmes, and R. G. Pettus.

The following were present from Stanford: W. H. Wearcn, J. F. Cummins, J. W. Iretand, Dr. M. M. Phillips, W. L. McCarty, C. E. Tate, Robi Bruce, T. W. Pennington, J. F. Engleman, M. A. Johnson, Robert Burdette. Coffey, James Woods. H. C. Wray, B. W. Givens, J. T. Emhry, Jno. Meeks 1. L. Benziey, Claude Bibb, J. T. Bingaman, Granville Lutes, T. J. Hill, Jr. Sam Castello, Waiter Milhurn.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Guest, of Louis ville, are visiting his parents, Col and Mrs. J. W. Guest.

Mr. Imrnie Fish, of California, and Miss Stella Fish, of Vincennes, Ind. son and granddaughter of Mrs. Marother relatives during their stay in (raht)rchard.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Durham and son Charles, of Cbicago, are visitors of Mr. T. J. Duritim and family From here Mrs Ed Mircle, of Liberty, are also guesta of the Durham family.

Mrs. W. T. B. White has gone to Mt Vernon for treatment.

Mr. E. L. Gooch and family visited

Mr. G. W. Snangler and family. Mrs. Itessie Browning and children of Livingston, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Kate Magee. Mrs. Sarah Brooks is visiting in At

Mrs. Jerdie Higgins and children and Mrs. Lute King, of Somerset, are visitors of Miss Molile Brooks. Miss Lena Napier is visiting in Lon

Miss Mary Arnold, of Lancaster, is quite comfortable without fire. visiting Miss Moilie Brooks.

church will observe Children's Day next Sunday.

Rev. R. C. Kimhall and wife of Mon-Mrs. William Marks, a boy. The littie fellow weighed 11 pounds.

Miss Addie Scott has as her guests Misses Mary Logan Anderson and Mary Dychouse, Messrs. Geo. Southparty at Dripping Springs ast Sunday this. George D. liopper. The post office is having its spring cleaning. It has been remodeled and is beling given a Iresh coat of paint which makes it very inviting in aprearance. Miss Marguerite Culton and Dr. not executive of-the Southern. It Marry R. Spitter were married at the tale, in front of the terminal station home of the bride's grandfather, Mr the a indeed an ornament to the city. H. P. Gilbert, of Richmond, at half Georgian, a Confederate solider, and and cut flowers, the color scheme

After the ceremony a luncheon was our hearty good wishes to Miss Marshine and little of sludow may tollow a short time, having come from Eattle Creek, Mich., to be managing physiwhere they will make their home ait. er the 20th. His courteous and manly deportment since he came here, has won him many friends and the admiration of all who have become ac. 'laid up' three weeks with Orlp." For quainted with him. We congratulate sore lungs, hemorrhages, on possessed of many noble traits of CUTTING AFFRAY ON

For rent, one furnished upper room: ilso a stable and corn cribs. Apply to Mrs. Hannah L. Steger.

hold furniture, including a plane and desk, sultable for an office; five or six teather beds also, Mrs. Steger.

Killing At Parksville

ONE THROUGH HEART

vitie, Boyle county Tuesday morning, had an altercation. Bilss was arrest-Walter Phillips, aged 27, instantly killed Thomas Vermillion by shooting him through the heart.

Phillips and others were standing on the store platform and when Vermillion passed, some one taunted the old man by calling him a nickname.

It is said that the old man became enraged and smacked Phillips with a er the midnight hour at which the la- cane, whereupon Philips pulled a pistol and shot. The bullet entered the old man's heart and he died aimost

> Phillips gays that another bystand. er spoke to the old man and not he, and that he did not know Vermillion except by sight.

I'hillips, who is a Lincoln county young man from nea Milledgeville was to have his examining trial at Danville toay. He is married and has

"City of Roses"

INTERESTINGLY DESCRIBED BY STANFORD GIRL

Miss Blanche Vandeveer, of this city, who is now in Portiand, Oregon, next, county court day. He will not the 'City of Roses," in writing for ask any of the growers to sign the her Interior Journal, which she says pledge at that time but will present she can not do witho it, tells some in teresting things of that hustling western city. She says.

Portiand, June 27.

Editor Interior Journal: -This is a wonderful country. The higness, the wild beauty, the gigantic projects no sooner conceived than ex to be shaken off.

stationed beneath a large placard county as yet. bearing the giaring words "Kentucky reputation we have abroad, we of the blood know that for men and women for Lospitable homes and loving hearts CCL. WALTON GOES WITH BIG Kentucky is the best place outside of heaven the good Lord ever made. 'While you back east are sweltering. we in the Rose City are shivering in a mean temperatur of 28 degrees. Old Sol shines henignly, yet we are never

The Sunday school at Hebron not receive my letter and send me the Col. Walten, after the sale of the paper for I dreamed last night of stepping over mountains, plains and rivers just to "scrap" with the I. J. manage. W. Beckham, opened a brokerage oflicello, are guests at the King Hotel ment. Wishing you and your family Born, on Sunday July 3 to Mr. and success and genuine happiness in better class of stocks and hands for your old home, I am sincerely,

BLANCHE VANDEVEER.

Attention everybody--Special rockbottom prices on hardware, groceries, ers and liarry Scott. They formed a etc. Don't fail to take advantage of

Lost Articles

AT PAPTIST MEETING LEFT AT POSS OFFICE

A great many articles, such a clothing, etc were left in the Baptist church during the revival services which have just closed. Among the arroad, some 30, at in number. The noon, July 6th. The parlors were ticles of wearing apparel found and which are at the postonice for their day while attending the Christian owners are two red jackets, three umbrellas, one overcent.

MAKING LIFE SAFER

Everywhere life is being made more New Life Pilis in constipation, billousdyspepsia, indigestion They're easy, but sure, and perfectly build up the health. A WILD RAGING BLIZZAED to thousands, who take colds, coughs and la grippe-tnat terror of of nose sore, chitis and fever, pain in back of bead, and a throat gripping cough. When Grip attacks, as value your life, don't delay getting Dr. King's New Discovery. "One bottle cured me" writes A. L. Dunn, of Pine Valley, Miss., "after being

FOURTH OF JULY

For sale, several pieces of house- JiM ROGERS SLASHED IN FACE BL EMIL BLISS IN FIGHT AT OTTENHEIM.

James Rogers of Crab Orchard, was hadly cut on the face and neck during a fight which came up at a plenic at YOUNG MAN SHOOTS AN OLD Ottenhelm on Monday, the Fourth of July. He was slashed several times by Emil Bliss, a young German, son In front of Wilson's store in Parks. of a man with whom Rogers had just ed and placed under $200 hond for

> It is not known just how the trouhie hetween the men originated, hut Rogers and the elder Bliss were at it. hammer and tongs when Deputy Sheriff Bud Iteynoids interfered and caught hold of Rogers to separate the men. Just as he did so, Rogers lunged out and kicked Bliss a terrific plow in the abdomen. At that moment the younger Bilss came to the defense of his father, and drawing his knife, hwent after Rogers while the oilicer still had hold of him. He cut Rogers hadly hefore he could be pulled off. It is said, however, that none of the injuries will prove serious.

Will Address Growers

ADVANTAGE OF POOLING TOBAC CO WILL BE SHOWN

liradley Wilson, district representative of the Burley Tobacco Society in this part of the state, has made arrangements to address the tobacco growers of Lincoln county on Monday, a few facts for their consideration.

The time of the address has not yet heen fixed but It will probably be about one o'clock, or at some other lour early in the afternoon.

Mr. Wilson has been through Madison. Garrard and other countles in this section south of the river and he ecuted, have for one a fascination not has been successful in convincing a large number of leading tobacco men I often hear the strains of "My Old that their only hope for continued Kentucky Home." I stop (transported high and living prices for this crop is to Blue Grass fields and running to stand together in the pool. There brooks) to discover that the band is is practically no pooled tohacco in this

In New Position

LEXINGTON BANK.

(Lexington Heraid.) Coionel Wliliam P. Walton, the well known newspaper man, tomorrow wil' take charge of the newly established stock and hond department of the Lex-Now, please let me know if you did lagton Banking & Trust Company. Kentucky State Journal to Mr. James L. Newman and former Governor J. C. nce in Lexington and handled the > more than a year, and he had built up quite a good sized business. The investors of Lexington know and have confidence in Col. Waiton and in his business judgment and the Lexington Hanking and Trust Conpany has made a wise move in arranging to obtain his services in the conduct of its new department.

PROMINENT MERCER MAN DEAD

W. O. Morgan, a leading husiness man and vice president of the Kentucky Republican Publishing Contpany, died at his home in tiarrodsburg, Tuesday s the result of a purulytic stroke, which he sustained Sunclarch. Mr. Morgan was a native of Washington county and a prominent republican. He represented Washington county in the legislature during the administration of Gov. Bradley, and was a brother of Wilkes Morgan. of Anderson county. He find been in uver the mercantile business for several troubles, Edney diseases and bowel years. He is survived by his wife but no children.

SAVED AT DEATH'S DOOR

The door of death seemed ready to pen for Murray W. Ayers, of Trausit winter and spring. Its danger signals itridge, N. Y., when his life was won-are "stuffed up" nostrils, lower part derfully saved. "I was in a dreadful condition," he writes, "my skin was almost yellow; eyes sunken; tongue coated; emaclated from losing 40 lent liver trouble pulling me down to death in spite of doctors. Their that matchless medicine—Electric Bitters -cured me. I regained the 40 nounds lost and now am well and strong. him on winning the handsome Misa colds, whooping cough broncuitis. For all stomach, liver and kindey Marguerite for his wife, a young womteed by G. L. Penny.

Asthma it's supreme. 50c, $1. Guaruntroubles they're supreme. 50c at Penny's Drug Store.

Lancaster Fair

JULY 27th 28th and 29th

1-9-1-0.

And See The Greatest Horse And Mule Show In Kentucky.

The Desire

Largest Assortment Of Free Attractions Ever Shown. See Bongo!

Catalogues at This Office

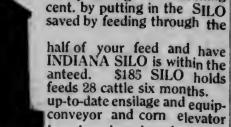

Double Your Profits by Using an

INDIANA SILO

sk any man who uses one. 54 per cent. of the food value of corn As contained in the shucks, cob. leaves and stalk, 46 per cent in the led by cutting and shocking rain, therefore corn hand-in the field loses 51 per ser cent. total food value is 95 per cent.

Why continue to waste mor stock? When the reach of all and fully guar wine acres of corn and Also agent for the most ments, Cutters, Practical

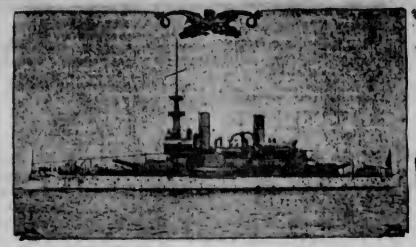

The Lincoln County National Bank Of Stanford. Kentucky

CAPITAL$	50,000.00
SURPLUS$	50,000.00
RZSOURCES$	340,000.00

B. PAXTON, VICE-PRESIDENT J. W. ROCHESTER, ASST. CASH H. C. CARPENTER, BOOKKEPER HAYS FOSTER, CLERK DIRECTORS

W.O. Walker, Stanford; S. H. Shanks, Stanford; Geo. W. Carter, Stanford John B. Foster, Stanford; W. H. Shanks, Stanford; T. C. Rankin, Lancaster; J. B. Paxton, Stanford; W. H. Traylor, Gilberta Creek; R. L. Hubble, Lancaster; W. H. Cummins, Preachersville; Lilburn Gooch, Gilberts Creek.

IS GOING OUT OF STYLE

pictured above, was the latest thing in hattleships during the Spanish-Today she is almost passe. For comparison, models of American war. the "Indiana" and the latest type of battleships will he shown at the Ohio Valley Exposition in Cincinnati from Aug. 29 to Sept. 24.

ROBERT R. REYNOLDS

Directs the Mammoth industrial Enterprise.

Robert R. Reynolds, President of the Ohio Valley Exposition, which will conduct the comprehensive industrial Exposition to he held at Cincinnati from Aug. 29 to Sept. 24. The Exposition is especially designed to bring about closer commercial relations between the Obio Vailey and

BIG HOBOKEN FIRE TO BE REPRODUCED

One of the Features of the Ohio Valley Exposition.

rangements have been perfected and most famous fires in history—the burning of the big steamship docks and several ocean-going vessels at Hoboken, N. J., several years ago. It has long been an established fact that the vast general public would rather see a fire than witness any other kind of spectacle that might be offered them in the line of a catastrophe or calamity. This is evidenced which bring spectators from far and near to "see the machines run" and to witness the work of the firemen after the acene of the conflagration is reached. When the spectacle, "Fighting the Flames," was produced come years ago by Claude Hagen, the well-known purveyor of public amusements, it was thought that the acme cent. by putting in the SILO of realism in shows of this kind had saved by feeding through the there was room for even greater half of your feed and have INDIANA SILO is within the anteed. $185 SILO holds spectacular effort, and again to the substitution of the substituti Shore," have been accepted by the Ohio Valley Exposition, and under the direction of the inventor the work of installing this thrilling spectacle is now going on, the plans calling for its erection on the hanks of the canal, and contracts making It imperative that all work shall be completed some weeks before the opening of the Exposition on Aug. 29. so that a perfect performance may be given when this hig industrial enterprise is thrown open to the public. "Fighting Flames on Ship and Shore" will show how the fire on the Hoboken docks was comhatted by the firefighters on land and by the fireboats of the New York department. There will he thrilling leaps from the masts of ships into the water, miraculous escapes, exciting scenes in which passengers and firemen will take part-in fact, as perfect a reproduction of that mammoth marine confiagration as can possibly be pictured. Several hundred people will be employed in the production, which will be given in a prominent location in the amusement section of the Exposi-

CHILDREN PROMINENT IN EXPOSITION PLANS

Exhibition of Playground Work On Music Hall Stage.

Cincinnati, O .- (Special.) -- it is doubtful that in making plans for an industrial exposition children were ever so prominently recognized as in the case of the Ohlo Vailey Exposidoes the plan of amusements for the attractions that will appeal as strongly to the younger generation as to adults, but in the arranging of the several Music Hall features programs have been adopted which will allow children to display their spilities along various lines. In the writing of the popular romantic opera "Paoletwhich will be given at Music Hall during the time of the Exposition, the composer, Pietro Fioridia. ranged for the introduction of children, these to be recruited principall) from the magnificent chorus of child voices that made the "Children's Cru sade" during the recent May Festival so conspicuous a success. On the afternoone when no performances of the opera are being given, the stage of Music Hail will be turned over to the children, it heing arranged that on two afternoons of sach week there ahell be an exhibition of programed playground work, such as is being conducted on the various playgrounds of the city by experts in this line of work; two afternoone to be devoted to calisthenic and athletic work by the boys' and the girle' classes of the leading Turner Sociaty of the city; and one afternoon each week to a series of fairy plays in which only one hundred, will take part. The rehearsals for those various features are well under way, promising most complete and interesting performances in the various lines. In the way of amusements for children, outeldo of the Music Hall attractions, there will he a midget circus, in which all of the fifty performers are Liliputians, and even the ponies and dogs are of the smallest size chtainable. Other attractions in the amusement section will appeal strongly to the younger element, so that the Exposition, as a whole, will offer as much entertainment and amusement to the seeker for pleasure as it will

BLOODED WORKHORSES IN THE PRIZE PARADE

to him who is interested chiefly in industrial and commercial displays.

Cincinnati. O—(Special.)—Even at this early date the owners of classy work horses in the Ohio Valley are beginning to pay special attention to their stock with the view of having them properly groomed and dispositioned for the hig parade of work horses, to be given under the aupleses of the Ohio Humane Society, in connection with the Ohio Valley Exposition in Cincinnati next fall. For some years this society has been endeavoring to carry out a plan by which owners of horses who have treated their animals kindly, and drivers who, through their ability and gentleness, have remained in the employment of one firm for a long period, might be rewarded. The Ohio Valley Exposition offers them their opportunity, and a schedule of prizes is now being drawn up that will call for the distribution of about $2.500 in money and nedal premiums. In the matter of judging the horses the gentle and docile manners of the animals, showing proper treatment, will be taken into consideration, with hard working condition as another is sue. The highest each prize will be $25, which will be given to the driver showing the longest continuous service with one owner or firm. There will be medal prizes for single, double, three, four, five and six-team spans of horses, for single and double mule spans and for ponics,

Dissolution Sale

CRAWFORD BROTHERS'

ST. LAMBERT JERSEY HERD

Consisting of 40 high brod registered cattle and six high grade cows

THURSDAY, JULY 14, 1910

At Lebanon, Kentucky. Beginning at one o'clock P. M. sharp.

Every Jersey owned by the Crawford Brothers will be sold. This includes the magnificent heri of pure St. Lamberts reserved from our sale last fall. Added to these will be a number of great dairy cows purchased last winter to retain our milk trade.

Also I nine-horse power Hagan portshie gasoline engine and one portable Wilder Whirlwind ensilage and fodder cutter. For catalogue write

Crawford Bros.,

Lebanon, Ky

FOR SALE!

Good, dry oak lumber suitable for barn boxing. Lumber piled at McKinney and Moreland, Ky.. at which points we are closing our operations.

Eorprices and terms write or 'phone Mr. W. T. Earles, Hustonville, Agent, Duhlmeier Brothers, Cincinnati, O.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

STANFORD, KENTUCKY ORGANIZED IN 1882. CAPITAL STOCK, $50,000

SURPLUS EARNED, $20,000. HAS PAID IN DIVIDENDS, $216,500 Combines Absolute Safety with Satisfactory Service. Modern Safety Deposit Boxes for Use of our Customers. We Solicit Your Account.

S. Hocker, President. S. T. Harris, Vice-President; John .. McRoberts, Cashier:

H. C. Boughman, Asst. Cash'r E. C Walton,

DIRECTORA F Reid. H. Baughmen, M. Pettus, H. C. Benghmen, J. F. Commine

S. T. Harris go. C. Robinson, I. S. Hocker.

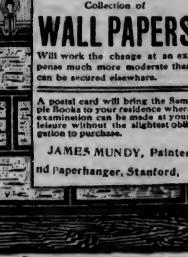

RURAL TELEPHONES.

MR. FARMER: Make your home as modern for your family as a ice, residence, and place yourself in a position to get the latest market quotations at any time. This can be accomplished by means of our telephone service which you and your neighbors can get for a sum that is small compared with the benefits received. Call or address our nearest office or write direct to neadquarters, Nashville, Tenu., for information regarding our special "Farmers' Line" rate. If you are not at present enjoying telephone service, we can immediately interest you. Our lines cover the States of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana and the Southern portion of Indiana and Illinois. EAST TENNESSEE TEL. & TEL. CO. (INCORPORATED)

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on

COMMENCING JULY 9, AND ENDING AUGUST 1.

STRICTLY THIS SPRING'S STYLES. THE HOUSE OF QUALITY.

SAM ROBINSON.

COME BEFORE WE GET CROWDED! WE TREAT ALL FAIRLY.

Owing to the Cold and Wet Spring, we find ourselves over-stocked and have to sell these goods to make room for

FALL GOODS COMING IN.

Business is good now, but it is too late in the season. We have no room for our Fall Goods now, as our Spring Stock is heavy, so Don't Wait Until too Late. Come Early and Get Choice Goods!

THIS VERY LARGE STOCK

Consists of Clothing of Best Make, Oxfords, Underwear, Hats, Felt and Straw, Odd Pants, Shirts, Ties, Dry Goods. Such

ANY SUIT AT COST.

Prices Never Heard of Before!

Trunks and Suit Cases at Cost.

LAWNS.	Fancy Vests.	Felt Hats.	Boys' Knickerbockers.	Men's All Wool Suits—The Best Brand Made—Go At	Misses oxfords in pumps, tan black, patent and suede.
20c Lawns 14c	$4 00 Vests 3 19		$1 50 Pants 1 19		stack, patent and sucue.
15e " 11c	3 50 Veats 2 78	$4 00 Hats 3 29	1 25 98	$27 00 Suits $18 98	$2.50 Oxfords
10c " 8e	3 00 Vests 2 19	3 50 2 98	1 00 '' 79	25 00 '' 16 98	2.00
Calicoes and other goods always	2 50 Vests 1 98	3 00 '' 2 28	75	22 50 ''	1.50
	2 00 Vests 1 58	2 50 " 1 98	50 '4	20 00 ''
on hand.	1 50 Veets	. 2 00 " 1 39		18 00 '' 11 98	Men's Oxfords-Patent, Tax and
Fancy Imported Hosiery.	1 00 Vests 79	1 50 ''	Men's Work Pants In Kaki, Her-	10 00 9 98	Grey:
		1 00 '' 79	ring-bone and Bird's Eye.	12 20 '' 8 98	Grey
50c Hose and Sox	Caps.		and blid a Lyc.	10 00 '' 6 98	$4 00 Oxfords
250		Ladies' Gauze Vests.	$3 50 Pants 2 78	6 00 '' 3 98	9 60 44
4 10e 44 44 44	50c Caps		3 00 ''		3 00
	25c Caps	25 cts. Vests	2 50 44	Boys' Suits.	2 50 1
We do not only give you 10 per	Nachwane	15 " " 11	2 00 " 1 48		2 00
cent. off, we put them at and be-		10 " " 8	1 50 " 98	$7 50 Suits $5 48	, low cost. Newest and most up-	50c Necktie		1 00 " 79	6 50 " 4 98	Ladies' Oxfords in Tan, Patrol to-date goods you can find.	Men's Belts.	Suspenders.		6 00 " 4 98	and Suede.
to-date goods you can mid.		•	Straw Hats Of All Kinds.	5 00 '' 3 98	and Suede.
Men's & Boys' Odd Dress Pants.	$1 00 Belts	50 ct. Pair 38		4 00 " 2 98	$3 50 Oxfords
	25c Belts 19	25 ct. Pair	$3 50 Hats 2 68	2 48	3 00 44 ····
$7 00 Pants 5 48	We have all kinds of Dress Goods	15 ct. Pair 11		3 00 2 28	250 '44
6 00 '' 4 48 5 00 '' 3 88	now going at Cost.		3 00 " 2 28	1 30	2 00 44
5 00 " 3 88 4 00 " 2 98	now some at Cost.	Men's Underwear-Union Suits.	2 50 '' 1 78	2 00 " 1 48	1 50
3 50 2 68	MEN'S FANCY SHIRTS	. Ten a Chaci wear—Chion Suits.	2 00 " 1 48
8 00 4 2 28		$1 50 Union-suit 98	1 50 "	Soft Walkers' Shoes and Oxfords	Come, everybody, and let
2 50 '' 1 98	$1.00 Shirt at79c	50c Underwear-Garment- 20
	50c Shirt at39c		50 '' 39	60c shoes	prove to you now low we are min
2 00		19		50e oxfords. 39e	pared to sell our goods.

SAM ROBINSON, Stanford, Ky.

Danville, Ky.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL.

EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

At $1 Per Year in Advance.

SHELTON SAUFLEY Publisher Entered at the Post Office at S:au-ford, Ky., as Second Class mall. Our prediction is coming true. An nouncement is made by the Advocate that stating on next Mondsy Danville will have a daily paper. The oid town is certainly getting a vigorous awnk-

Kings Mountain.

daughter, Mrs. Huey Cannon, of Wilmore this week.

Mr. Montgomery Durbam, of Mc-Kinney, visited Miss Ethel Lee Sun-

Sebastin Chevillet entertained the public Saturday night with an ice cream supper which proved a very pleasant event.

Miss Virgle Florence, of Somerset, visited her parents last week.

Miss Clara Murpby bas been lll but Miss Elizabeth Dye is spending a fortnight with ber sister, Mrs. Willi Flansgan at Lebanon Junction. Mlss Adella Courtney spent a few days in our burg last week. Mr. Elveda Floyd and wife are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rainey

Mrs. Morcland Smithi gave a birthday dinner Sunday in honor of ber little son, Lucian's 4th birtbday.

C. D. Evans purchased a new uplittle daughter Msrlon.

Master Lyman Hatter bas been very ill with a dewpoisoned foot but is

Dr. J. G. Carpenter delivered a ver; instructive lecture on tuberculosis, hookworm etc., Sunday evening at Christian church.

BOWMAR'S SUMMER TOURS.

Write to Bowmar's Tours, Versailles hy, lor folders glving details and cost of Bowmar's Ideal (personally conducted) tours to Niagarn Fails Toronto, Buffalo and Cleveland, with fine lake steamer trips, Tuesday Aug., 2, and to Atlantic City, New York, Philaleiphia and Washington, Thursday Aug. 11th. High-Class accommodations Select parties.

How to Cure Eczema, Pimples And Dandtuff.

We desire to say that when we took the agency for Zemo, we were convinced that it was a valuable remedy for eczema, pimples and dandruff. Yet we must frankly admit that Zemo has far exceeded our expectations as a treatment for skin discases. We are plessed to state that we shall continue the rgency, as Zemo has given splendid re-

Zemo effects its cures by drawing to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disesse, leaving the skin clesr and healthy. It does not soil the clothing or linen snd can be used freely on infants. With every purchase we give a booklet on skin diseases explaining in simple words how any person can be cured at home of any form of skin or scslp disesses by this clean, scientific remedy. G. L. Penny, Druggist.

IT'S GOOD TO REFLECT

well before going about vith that will be for you to consuit us as to the kird of plumbing you require. We can show you exactly the best me us indices be called to meet on Tuesday; indices the called to meet on Tuesday; indices the called to meet on Tuesday; lease possible expense. We cannot sliden to amend the articles of associa-Advise you as to pour plumbing. We tion of this bank as follows. are not risking people's health for u

W. K. WARNER,

Stanford, Ky. Phone 188.

SO DECEPTIVE

Many Stanford People Fail to Realize the Serlousness

Backache is so deceptive.

It comes and goes-keeps you guess ing. Learnthe cause—then cure it.

Nine times out of ten it comes from the kidneys. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Cure every kidney III from backache to diabetes. We present the following case in

Thomas Elkin, Panville street, Laucaster, Ky., says: "For a great many years I was a sufferer from kldney complaint and I nad such severe pains In the small of my back that I was hardly able to get about. The many comedles I used failed to belp me until Mr. Walter Cannon and family, of upon the advice of a friend, I procur-Livingston came here Tuesday. Mr. er a box of Doan's Kidney Pilis. In a Cannon will be a co-worker in the short time after beginning their use, I growing business of G. H. Cannon & Improved and It was not long before I was restored to perfect bealth. I Mrs. James Alcorn visited her give Doan's Kidney Pills the entire credit for the great change in my condition and I recommend them as a re-> llable kldney remedy.' For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cent. Foster-Mliburn o., Buffalo, N. I., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name-Doan's--and take no other.

Hustonville.

Special Clothing Sale-Made to order suits $25 and $27.50 suits for $18.50; $20 and $22.50 suits for $16. Adams Brothers, Hustonville.

A WRETCHED MISTAKE.

to endure the ltching, painful distress of piles. There's no need to. Listen: 'I suffered much from plles,' waltes Will A. Marsb, of Siler City, N. C. till I got a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve nd was soon cured." Burns, boils, ulcers, fever sores, eczema, cuts right plano recently for his charming chapped bands, chilbiains vanish before It. 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

Beware of Ointments for Ca' cran that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derance the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten lold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Italis (whart Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internaily, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In the genuine, it is taken internaily and made in Toledo. Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials tree.

Sold by Drussists. Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Histi's Family Pills for constipation.

ARTISTIC

shades in our ready nixed colors. For durablity and uniform high penniless? You are not as young as quality they are unequalled. Talk you used to be. Starting over again all you like about "good, paints, to make a home will be a dishearten-Then do a little actual painting jug struggle. Let us jusure you so with a small sample from our stock that such a possibility may be rensults wherever recommended. Our cus- nd watch results. You'll satisfy dered impossible. Think of your wife tomers like Zemo, too, because it is a yourself that you can buy no better as well as yourself. You should get clean, vegetable liquid for externs luse. apaint for the money anywhere. Let lusured on her account anyway.

J. A ALLEN, Stanford, Ky.

Spring & Summer Stock

llave'your measure them by a thilor of experience. Then your clothes, who there low price business sait or the finest evening clothes, will have that individuality and fit which planaly indicate they were made to your measure. I will also take your measure. I will also take your measure for extra bronsers, farely vests too coats and overcoats. Spring and Summer estupies on band ready tof your inspection. H. C. RUPLEY. The Tallor, Stanford, Ky

NOTICE

The white teachers' Institute will be held at Stanford in the Graded School building July 11-15. All leagners contemplating teaching, either in the Graded or common schools are regulred by law to attend. Prof. J. W freiand, Instructor. G. SINGLETON,

OF CHICE TO SHAREHOLDERS OF LINCOLN COUNTY NATION . AL BANK.

new plumbing work. B tter yet it Stanford, Ky., on June 1s. 1910, it was this back, at its ianking hore in some and how much better are your of accomplishing your purpose at the in Stanford, Ky, to vote on the propo-

> First -To lucrease capital to3100, 000 and to authorize the directors to set price of new stock. Second -To increase the number of directors to W. M. Bright, Cashier.

AUTOMOBILES

SUPPLIES AND ACCESSORIES.

AGENTS FOR

Flanders 20 $750 E. M. F. 30 -----$1250 Haynes $2000 Baker Electric --- 2000 to $4000 Studebaker Garford, $4000 to $6000. If interested, Phone us Bell 24, and we will gladly give you demonstration.

Danville Ice & Coal Co.

ARTICLE IT IS BECAUSE OF THE QUALITY OF THE CONTENTS OF THE CAN OR PACKAGE. IF YOU WANT PRETTY PICTURES GO TO AN ART

IF YOU WANT THE BEST GROCERIES FOR YOUR TA-BLE, COME HERE

TRY OUR NEW CAKE FOR YOUR TABLE. W. H. HIGGINS.

Stanford, Kentucky.

Barn Lumber For Sale!

120,000 feet of Boxing, Sheeting and Frame Lumber for Barn Patterns, which I will sell for cash or trade for Corn. Hay or good Horses and Mules. Prices on this very reasonable, for I want to sell. Write me at once. Respectfully, C. J. SIPPLE. London, Ky.

THOUGH YOU ESCAPE

WITH YOUR LIFE what good is it, if a fire leaves you

Fish & Pennington, Stanford, Ky., Phone 200

YOU GET THE BEST OF THE BARGAIN

when you buy our Baughman's Fancy Patent No. 1 Flour at our price, Judge ing by comparison our flour ls worth nore than we sak for It. Buy a sack and we know you will agree with us. Especially when you see how for our At a meeting of the directors of Baughnen's Fancy Patent No. 1 flour bread, c kes and pastry.

> J. H. Baughman & Co. A. W. CURD, AUCTIONEER, Burgin, Hentucky.

I am a graduate of Jongs' National School of Auctioners, Chicago, and have had experience in the big cattle sales at the Paion stock Yards, Chicago, where we sold some thoroughbreds as high as $1,500. Also in horse sales where $00 sales were unde each day. Auctioneering is a science and finate studied it with this idea. See or phone me before you arrange for your sale, I can make sales to yourndyantage. PHONE 25-R

Bring Your Produce To Us

We have opened a produce house on Someiset street and will pay the highest market price for all kinds of country produce. Bring us your stuff. M. O. BASTIN & CO.,

BLACKSMITHING!

Bring your Wacksunthing and general repair work to me. Horse shoeing oc. Satisfaction gunranteed, shop opposite Phillips' concrete store. JAMES BRACKETT,

J. L. Beazley & Co.,

Undertakers and Embalm ers. Also Dealers in Furaiture, Mattings, Rugs. They will exchange Furniture for all Kinds of Stock. Give Then: a Call. Prices Right

STANFORD, - KENTUCKY

CUT FLOWERS FOR SALE!

I can turnish the pure with the best, as well as the freshest of cut flowers, plants of all kinds, bulls, potted flowers, on short notice. Also make a specialty of wreaths for for funeral purposes.

In connection with the above, I have all kinds of vegetables on hand at reasonable prices.

prices.
CHRISTMAN GREEN HOUSES, RD HUBBARD, FROM.
Stanford, Ky

J. J. BELDEN,

J J. HELDEN.

W. A. TRIBBLE, Furniture and Undertaking.

Day Phone 28. Night Phone 133. Stanford, Kentucky.

L& N. TIME TABLE

No. 21, South, 11:26 P. M. No. 23, South, 10:45 A.M. No. 24, North, 4:40 A.M. No. 22, North, 5:10 P. M. No. 37, 10:20 A.M. JOS. S. RICE, Agent.

MASON'S MEET.

Lincoln Lodge No. 20, F. & A. M. will meet a stated communication on each that and In stated communication on each first and third Monday nights of each mouth, at 735 o's ack in their hall on muln street, stan ford, Ky. Members of sister lodges are fraternally invited to be present. T. W. Fen nington Sec.

Harry Jacobs, Markers and Posts, Cometery and Lawn Visses and Settees. Office and works, Mc-Kinney, Ky. Marble and Cranite Monu-

Young And Little Men's

WEAR OUR SPECIALTY.

These little tellows we dress with pride. Our suits are all cut with Knickerbocker trousers in beautiful patterns and any price from $3.50 to $10. Od d trousers, Knickerbocker styles, sizes 5 to 17, in Kahki, at 50c. In Woolen 50c

H. J. McROBERTS.

139393939393939393939

G. L. Penny

R. H. Coffey

E. R. Coleman

Ice Cream Soda Water

And a Large List of Genuine Thirst Quenchers At PENNY'S DRUG STORE,

Stanford, Kentucky.

Detroit Vapor

The Latest In

Absolutely Wickless, No Asbestos. No Cotton Wicks.

The Very Thingsfor Summer Cooking.

Makes life in the kitchen endurable in hot weather.

GEO. H. FARRIS.

We to the profit to desire that the conference, sign as none work. For a missing and, it, as we consider the first form house district for the control of the visit serve you promptly and garantee. Here these work and material, that and get our prices before you by your material at least.

PHILLIPS BROS., Stanford, Ky.

When Hungry

GII TO

Carson's Bestaurant Luncaster, Street, Stanford K. Meals served at iNI hours up to 11:80; P. M. S Best place in wn, for a good quick ment.

Cooking to suit our customers our specialty. Splendid new line of fancy Groceries. Hot Coffee, Sandwickes, ples, Intter milk and sweet milk, etc., at all times. W. A. CARSON, Prop.

TWELVE Days Of Special Prices---From July the 7th until July the 20th.

HUNDREDS Of Satisfied Customare leaving our store every day---Why Not You?

SEVERANCE & SON,

Stanford, Kentucky.

There is a new line of 25c box pa pers, special values at Penny's Drug

PERSONALS.

Tilden Cooper is quite ill and typhold fever is feared.

Miss Nancy Yeager spent several days with Danville friends,

Mr. Richard Cobb visited in Rich-

Robert Harding Waters will return

ta St. Louis Sunday. Mr. J. C. McClary is at Ellxir

Springs taking a well earned rest. Mrs. Rhoda Waters and family are visiting Mr. Frank Spink near Leban-

Mlas Fannie Searcy, of Lawrenceburg, is a guest of Miss Kate D. Ra-

Miss Nannle Kennedy is at home visit. She has a splendid position

Mr. Hubert Spencer, of Spring City. Fenn., was the guest this week of Miss Sara M. Dunn.

Miss Lucinda Intes and Miss Elizabeth Adams, who are attractive guests of Mrs. A. M. Prye at Hustonville were in Stanford yesterday.

The Ladies Ald Society of the Christian church will meet with Mrs. A. Rice Tuesday afternoon at 2 20

Hon. Jerre A. Sulilvan will sail July 9th on the White Star S. S. Uninorthern Europe, returning to Rich- Penny. mond in September .- Cliniax.

Miss Mary Higgins, are spending a riage, is here on av isit to her parents, few weeks with Dr. W. Harry Higgins Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Pallou. Her at Clifton Springs, New York. They many friends will be glad to know will visit Niagara Fails, Toronto, etc that her health is considerably linon their return trip.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

STOPS FALLING HAIR DESTROYS DANDRUFF

AN ELEGANT DRESSING MAKES HAIR GROW

Mrs. J. P. Harper, of Salisbury, N.

and Mrs. F. L. Crow in Danville, Mrs.

most delightfully at her home on the

Mary Ashby Cheek, Miss Lula Lillard,

Miss Josle Sims, Miss Bertha Taylor,

Miss Angle McConnell and Miss Fran

Short Local News.

Fly Paper; Fly Screens, Fly Eillers,

Another stock of Dollar watches at Itefore you buy a parsol see the

July is the time to settle accounts;

all in debt to me will please call and sette. Miss Ella May Saunders.

thresher at a bargain. W O. V. . Ler

Blds for the surplus milk at the ou want. Don't miss buying your hat

ortment to Stars college will ce

For Sale-Brand new Ollver lybe held in my office July 1546 G

Sughten, Supt.

Fly everything at the Country Etore at the Country Store.

ones at the Country Store.

mekers. Geo. H. Farris'

Ingredients: Sulphur, Glycerin, Quinin, Sodium Chlorid.

Ask your doctor if there is anything injurious here. Ask him also if there is not genuine merit here. Does not Color the Hair

Cedar Springs, S. I , where she taught | Kansas City.

the past term. Mrs. James Mershon, of Lehanon C., is the guest of her parents, Mr. Junction, was a pleasant visitor here

Mrs. Clarence Tate and children her, where she made a visit. from Montgomery, Ala, for a short are spending several days at Crab Orchard Springs. Mr. W. P. Grimes has returned from Milledgeville pike Monday afternoon Kansa City, where he spent several in honor of the members of her housweeks for his health.

Misses Eva and Mattle Wright, of six. The guests of Miss Carpenter's Riley's and Mr Walter Noakes are guests of Misses Jeanne and Martha Brown, Miss Martha Hominel, Miss

Misses Mary Shepard Cook and Mary Raney have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Kenney in Dan-

Miss Peachle Raughman has returned from St. Joseph, Mo., where with tic for a summer abroad. He will tour her sister, Mrs. Catherine McClarv, the Stritish Isles, the Continent and she has been the guest of Mrs. Smith

Mrs. Wm. Myatt, of Texas, who was Mrr. W. II Higgins and daughter, Miss Flora Ballou before her mar-bottom prices on hardware, graceries, ete. Don't fall to take advantage of this. George D. Hopper.

It soothes, refreshes, strengthens and purifies the stomach, howels and kidneys. A topic that prevents summer troubles. Such is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35c tea or tab-lets at Shugars & anner's.

The young people of the Goshen section were very charmingly entertained Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs Joslah Datson. At 11, delight ful refreshments were served and at 12 the young people reluctantly departed for their homes.

A petition has been filed by the wets at Richmond asking for a local option election on Sept. 15 The city went dry three years ago.

Mr. W. A. Carson received this Pelihrey, of the Old Antioch church finest home grown honey it has ever been ye editor's pleasure to taste.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Christian church will entertain tonight with a social at the church, the entertainment planned for last week having been postponed. The members of the young people's socletles oft he other churches are cordially invited to attend.

* PROFESSIONAL AND BUSINESS CARDS.

W. W. BURGIN. DENTIST. Office at Residence. CRAB ORCHARD, KY.

DR. T. W PENNINGTON,

Hours 5:30-12 A. M and 1 to 4:30 P M. l'owder, guns, totacco noes and Ice office Myers House Flats, Stanford, Ky.

for sale-First class Ball City Office over H J. ReRoberts' store,

. J. P. CHANDLER, Auctioneer.

duct any kind of sale 1. J. Lincoln and surrounding countles. If you want good prices for your laud or stock, see me. Stanford, R.D.No 1

> M. H. JOHNSON. Auctioneer.

I will conduct sales in this and surrounding counties. Satisfaction guaranteed Stanford, R.D.No 1. humed hats, 25 cents up to any price anteed

> PRESSED STANDING SEAM GAL. VANIZED ROOFING.

Large unntitles Carried in Ste. .: EADS' TIN SHOP, Stanford. Phone 115.

Spring cleaners can secure the finest writer latest model; at a bargan, Ld paper in the world to go under carpets, mattings, etc., at the very lowest price Fure Detring Steal binder twine at at the Interior Journal, office. Also Frents a pound. J. G. Veatherterd, lots of nice, clean papers for shelves, Comer Faded!

Buy our line of wool clothing. They will not fade.

All-wool Blue Serge, or Light Crash Suit, or a Light, Quarter-lined Two-piece Suit Will Keep You Cool on These Hot Days on Your Summer Vacation Trip.

You Will Find Our Line Full of Cool Clothes FOR HOT WEATHER.

Cummins & Wearen,

STANFORD, KENTUCKY. This store is the home of Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes

"THE DEACON"

Five Act Comedy Drama At Alcorn's Opera House, Hustonville Friday Night, July 8th.

CAST OF CHARACTERS.

ı	Deacon Thornton	James Hall
	George Graef	Roger Hiels
ı	George Darrah, alias Matt Wheeler,	Tom Back
1	James Reed	Crestes Floyd
ł	Pedro, an organ grinder,	John Hicks
1	Parson Brownlow	George Barnette
1	Pete, a servant,
1	Billy, the Deacon's boy,	Paul Willis
1	Mac Thornes	Isa Floyd
	Helen Miss Amelia Fawcett	Ella Barne to
•	Miss Amelia Fawcett	Ama Barker
•	Mrs. Darrah	Blanche Barnette
	Nellie	Roberta Blain
	Daisy	Anna Floy
٠	•

Notes and Accounts Collected.

We collect notes and accounts anywhere in the United States. No charges unless we collect. Also look after claims of all kinds. Bank references. Correspondence solicited.

COLLECTION AGENCY

WOODSON MAY, Mgr...

Somerset, - - - Kentucky.

ACENTS FOR HARCOURT & CO. Louisville, Ky. MANUFACTURING ENGRAVERS Prices Quite as Reasonable as Consistent with Quality.

Going Away

Are you going away to spend your vacation? If so let us show you our line of Suit-Cases and Trunks Don't borrow, your friend may be going away too.

W. E. PERKINS,

L. R. Hug hes

CRAB ORCHARD, KENTUCKY

W. O. Martin

T. W. Humble

We will sell you any pair of slippers left in our house at a great reduction. Now is the time to buy. From 25 to 50 per cent. in Vici, Patents, Tan, Oxblood, etc.

$3.50 Oxfords cut to $2.28 $3.00 Oxfords cut to $1.98 $2.50 Oxfords cut to $1.48 $1.50 Oxfords cut to $1.18 Our loss is your gain.

HUGHES, MARTIN & CO.,

Diy Cccs, Notions, Shoes, STANFCFD, KENTUCKY

CHAPTER 1.

The Primitive Norm.

Whether she had fainted or fallen asleep, she did not know, but this one thing she was sure, it had been dark when consciousness left her and it was now broad day, although the light seemed to come to her with a greenish tinge which was quite unfamiliar. The transition between her state of yesterday and that of to-day was as great as if she had been born into morning from the womb of midnight and like a young animal she drank it in hilndiy with closed eyes. She could hear the thunderous roaring of the breakers crashing upon the harrier reef. Alone -her boat had been wrecked in the darkness of the night before the sound softened and mellowed by distance came to her in a deep, low accompaniment to the sharper and nearer sounds of the hirds singing and the breeze rustling geatly through the long leaves of the trees overhead.

The dry sand on which she lay was aoft and yielding and made a comfortable hed for her tired body racked with weary days in the constraint and narrowness of a small hoat. It was warm, too. She had heen drenched when she scrambled on the shore and fell prostrate on the beach, retaining just strength enough and purpose enough to crawl painfully inward to where the tall palms grow hefore she lapsed in whatsoever way it might have heen into oblivion.

Incoherent thoughts raced through her hewildered hrain; each one, however, hringing her a little nearer the awakening point of realization. Then there ran through her young body a primal pang which dispelled the tremulous and vagua illusions which her fancy had woven about herself as she lay warm and anug and sunny at the foot of the tall trees, and she realized that she was frightfully thirsty, so thirsty that she did not know how hungry she was.

The demand for the material awakened the animal in her. Her thoughts centered instantly; they were at once localised on one supreme desire. Coincidently her eyes unclosed and she sat up blinking in the strong light. The rising sun still low on the horizon smote her full in the eyes and left her for the moment dazed again. She sat leaning upon her hands extended behind her back staring seaward, saying nothing, thinking nothing, until a strange sound to the right of her attracted her attention. It was a sound made hy a human voice and yet it was like nothing human that she had ever heard. It was a wordless, languageless ejaculation, but it roused her interest at once despite her material cravings.

She weakly turned her head and there standing erect with folded arms was unclothed entirely save for a fantastic girdle of palm leaves about his waist. She stared at him puzzled. amazed, affrighted. He returned her look with an intent curiosity in which there was no suggestion of evil purpose, rather of great incomprehension, an amazing wonderment. There was nothing about hlm, save the fact that he was there, which should have caused any alarm in her heart, for with a woman's swift mastery of the possibilities of the other sex, she noticed in her vague terror and wonderment that he was remarkably good to look at. Indeed, she thought that she had never seen so spiendid a specimen of physical manhood as that hefore her. In color he was white. Save that he was bronzed by the tropic sun, he was perhaps whiter than she was. His hair, which hung about his head in a wild, matted tangle, not unpicturesque, was golden; his eyes bright brae. Reneath his beard, unkempt but short and curly, she could see his firm, clean-cut line. His proportions were superb. He was limbed and chested like the Apollo Belvedere. In him grace and strength strove for predominance. He was totally unlike all that she had read of the aborigines of the South seas.

It was the man who broke the allence, as it had been the man who had broken the spell of her slumber.
He made that queer little chuckling noise in his throat which sounded familiar enough and yet she had heard it from the lips of no man before. It meant nothing to her except that he who stood before her at least was not dumh, although the noise he made was certainly no articulate speech as she knew speech or could imagine x.

At any rate it was a stimulus to her. She opened her own parched lips and strove to make reply, but her thirst, with a rising terror and nervousness made her dumb and no sound came The man might be preparing to kill her. He could do ao, if he willed, she thought, but she must drink or die. If she could not speak, she could make signs. She leaned forward raised her arm, hollowed her hand and dipped as if from a well and made as if to pour it into her lips. Then she stretched out both her bands to him in the attitude of petition. The man stared hard at her. His brow wrinkled.

It was such a simple sign that any savage would have comprehended it, she thought, and yet it appeared to her, watching in despair, that it took a long time for the idea to heat into his brain. She could wait no longer. She rose to her knees and stretched out her hands again.

"Water!" she gasped in a hoarse whisper. "Water, or I die!" The man had started violently at her speech. Giving him no time to recover, she went through the motion again, this time with greater effect, for the man turned and vanished. She sank down on the Fand too exhausted to follow him even with her eyes. If he brought the water she would drink it and live; if he did not, she would lie where she was and die. She did not care much, she thought, which would happen. She had so sickened of life before she essayed that open boat, that she believed it was simply an animal craving in her which would make her take the water in case it should he brought her. And yet when he did appear with a cocoanut aheli hrimming with clear, sparkling liquid. she felt as though the elixir of life had been proffered her. She selzed the shell with both hands which yet so trembled that most of the precious water spilled on her dress as she carried it to her parched lips. This was good in the end, for if that vessel had been the famed Jotupeheim drinking born, she would have drained it dry ere she set it down. As it was, she got but little; yet that little was enough to set her heart heating once more. Emptying the shell of the last drop-and with that keepness of perception which her long training had intensified and developed, marking the while that it had not been cut clean by any knife or saw or human implement, but was jazzed and broken as if from a fall, she dropped it on the sand and looked again toward the man. He held in his hand fruit of some kind, she did not know what it was. It might have been poison. What mattered it? Having drunk she must also eat. It looked edible, it was inviting to the eye and smell, and as she aunk her teeth into it, she found it agreeable to the taste also. He had brought it to her. If he had meant harm, present harm, surely he would not have given the water. She ate It confidently.

As the man saw her partake of what he had given her, he clapped his hands and laughed. She was grateful for that laugh. It was more human than the habiling sounds which he made hefore.

There was hut little of the fruit, just what a child would have brought and this again was good for her, for had there been an ahundance, in her need

"Water!" She Gasped in a Hoarsa Whisper,

she would have eaten until she had made herself III. When she had partaken, she rose to her feet. Before doing this she had extended her hand to him as if seeking assistance, but he had simply stared at her uncomprehending and she had been forced to get to her feet manided. Once standing, she trembled and would have fallen, but that she caught his arm and steadied berself by holding tightly to it. The man started back at her touch. Color came and went in his face; Httle shudders swept over him; his mouth opened; he looked at her with a singular expression of awe not unmixed with terror in his eyes, for this was the first time in his recollection or what would have been his recollection if his retrospective faculties had been developed, that he had ever felt the touch of a woman's hand, of any human hand upon him.

Noticing his peculiar demeanor in the, to her, perfectly natural situation, the woman summoning aome of the remains of the reserve of force which is in every human body until life is gone, released his arm and stared about her leaving against the trunk of the nearest paim. This time, and for the first time, she took in that expanse of sea, losely ret beautiful, upon which har eyas were to look so often. Out of the deep and the night she had come. Into what deep and into what day had she arrived?

She turned and surveyed the shore.

She turned and surveyed the shore. The beach curved sharply to the right and to the left the long barrier reef following roughly its contour until the land obscured it on either side. Back of her stretched a grove of palms and hack of that rose a hill; its creat bare and crag-like towered ahove a sea of verdure. Through a chance vista she saw the mass of rock as a mountain peak. On one side high precipitous cliffs ran down close to the shore and shut out the view. Over them water fell to the beach.

Save in the person of the man be side her there was not an evidence of humanity anywhere. No eurl of smoke of human voices smote the fearful hollow of her ear. The hreeze made music in the tall paims and in the thick verdure farther up the hill side, hirds sang softly here and there, but there was a tropical stillness to which the great heaving diapason on the distant harriers was a foundation of sound upon which to build a lonely quiet. Human beings there might be, there must he, on that island, if island it were; hut if so, they must be shiding op the farther side. She and the man were alone.

Standing on her feet, with a slight renewal of her strength from what she had eaten and drunk, the woman now felt less fear of the man. He had treated her kindly. His aspect was gentie, even amiahle. He looked at her wistfully, hending his hrows from time to time and ever and again shaking his head, as a great dog looks at the master with whom he would fain speak, whose language he would fain understand, to whom he would fain impart his own ideas if he could.

She stared at him perpicked. She was entirely at loss what to do, until her eyes roving past him detected a dark object on the water line just where the still blueness touched the white sand. The sunlight was reficted from gleams of metal, and thinking that she recognized it, she stepped from the shade of the palms and made her way unsteadily toward it. The man, without a sound, follow ed closely at her side.

Her vision had been correct for she drew out of the sand a leather handhag, such as women carry. It had heen elaborately fitted with hottles and mirrors and toilet articles. Alas, it was in a sad state of dilapidation now. The bottles were broken, their contents gone. The hag had been lying In the boat when it had been hurled on the harrier in the night and the same storm and tide which had borne her ashore had hurled it also on the sand. But it had come open in the hattering and its contents were pitiably ruined. With eager eyes and ingers she examined everything. She found intact a little mirror, a pair of scissors, a little housewife which was not a part of the fittings and she wondered how it failed of heing washed away, two combs and a package of bairpins.

She had fought against starvation and thirst and ioneliness and despair as she had fought against men and she had not given way. She had set her teeth and locked her hands and endured hardship like the stoutest hearted, most determined soldier in the history of human struggics. But as the realization of this small misfortune hurst upon her, she sank down on the sands and put her head in her hands and sobbed. Tears did her good. She had her cry out, utterly unhindered, for the man stood by, shaking his head and staring at her and making those strange little sounds, but offering in no way to molest her.

The water was heautifully clear and she could see on the other side of the harrier the remains of her hoat. Perhaps some time, if there were need, she could get to that hoat, hut for the present all the flotsam and jetsam of her wild and fearful voyage lay in a water-soaked hag full of broken glass an I battered sliver from which she had rescued a pair of scissors, a mirror, two combs, a housewife full of rusty needles and some hairpins. O vanitae vanitatum!

She was wearing a serviceable dress of blue serge with a sailor's blouse and a short skirt. Putting her precious treasure trove within the loose blouse and carrying the hattered hag which she meant to examine more carefully later, she turned and made for the shade of the trees again. For one thing the sun rising rapidly was gaining power and beating down with great force upon her hare head. She had enjoyed the protection of a wonderfully plaited straw hat on her long voyage else she could not have borne the heat, but that, too, was gone.

As she walked inland, she noticed again off to her right that stream of water which dropped over the tall cliff in a alender waterfall a sweet inviting pool at the base before it ran through the sanda toward the sea. She made her way thither and at 'the brink knelt down and took long draughts of it. Eating and drinking evidently went together in the mind of the man, for when she raised her head, she found him standing before her with both hands filled with some of the fruit she had partaken of before and other fruit. She thought she recognized the breadfruit and a species of banana. At any rate, ahe ate again and having by this time recovered to some extent her mental poise, she ate sparingly and with caution.

Then having satisfied her material needs, she knelt down by the stream and washed her face and hands. How sweet was the freshness of that water to her face burned by the sun and the wind and subjected for a long time to the hard spray of the briny seas. She would have been slad to have taken off her clothing and plunged into the pool, to have washed the salt of days from her tired body, to have had the stimulus and refreshment of ita sparkling coolness over her weary limbs. But in the presence of her dog-like attendant this was not yet possible.

Still she could and must arrange her hair. Of all the articles in her dressing hag, she was more forvently thankful at that moment for the combs than anything eise, the combs and the little mirror and the hairpins—small things indeed, but human happiness as a rule turns on things so small that the investigator and productor thereof generally overlook them. And we know not the significance of the little until upon some desert island we are left with only those.

It was still early, about eight o'clock. How was she to pass the day? She must do something. She felt she could not sit idly staring from sea to shore. She must he moving. No business called her; she must invent some. The compeiling necessity of a soul not born for idleness was upon her. She would explore the land. That was logically the first thing to be done any way and this was a highly trained woman who thought to live hy rule and law alheit her rulea were poor onea.

She started inland, the man follow ing after. She had gained confidence in herself with every passing moment. The man who looked at her as a dog she would treat as one. She must have some privacy. She could not always have him trailing at her heels. She turned by a great boulder, pointed to it, laid her hand on the man'a shoulder and gently forced him to a sitting position by it. Then she waiked He stared wistfully after her away. departing figure, and as she turned around to look at him, he sprang to his feet.

"No, no!" she cried imperatively, making backward threatening motions with her hands, whereat he resumed his sitting position, staring at her until he lost her among the trees.

Presently she turned and came back to him. It was so deathly lonely without him. He leaped to his feet as he saw her coming and ciapped his hands as a child might have done, his face breaking out the while into a smile that was both trustful and touching. She felt hetter since she had him under this control,' and together they walked on under the trees.

CHAPTER II.

Conscious of His Manhood.

High noon and they were back at the landing place and she at least was very tired. Accompanied by the man, who made not the slightest attempt to guide her, after some difficulty she had succeeded in forcing her way through the trees to the top of the hill. Part of the time she had followed the course of the rivulet from which she had drank at the foot of the cliff. She was determined to get to the top, for she must see what was upon the other side. Ilumanity's supreme desire when lacing the hills has always been to see what was on the other side. The stimulus of the unknown was upon her. but it was coupled with a very lively desire hegot of stern necessity to know what there was to he known of the land upon which she had been cast up hy the sea.

Her view from the hilitop-she did not essay the unclothed and jagged peak; she could make her way around its hase and see all that there was to see-was not reassuring. She could detect on the other side of the island no more evidence of life than were presented by that she had first touched upon. In avery direction lay the unvexed sea. The day was brilliantly clear; there was not a cloud in the sky. No mist dimmed the translucent purity of the warm air. Nothing broke the far horizon. The island, fair and heautiful, was set alone in a mighty ocean. In so far as she could teil, she and the man were alone upon it. The thought oppressed her. She strove to throw it off. The silence of the man oppressed her as well. She turned to him at last and cried out, the words wrung from her hy the horror of the situation.

"Man, man, whence came you? How are you called? What language do you speak? Why are you here?"

The sound of her own voice gave her courage. Waiting for no answer, and indeed she realized that none could come, she atepped to the hrow of the hill where the trees happened not to he and raising her voice called and called and called. There were answering echoes from the jagged crag behind her, but when these died away there was silence unbroken save by the queer babbling, chuckling noises of the man.

She looked at him with a sudden sinking of the heart. Had this godlike creature roaming the woods, this faun of the island been denied a brain, articulate speech? Was she doomed to spend the rest of her life alone in this paradise of the Pacific with a harmless madman forever hy her side? What a situation was that in which she found herself!

She was a highly specialized product of the greatest of universities. In science and in phllosophy she was a master and a doctor. She should have had resources within herself which would enable her to be independent of the outside world, a world in which her experience, self-brought, had been hitter, in which the last few weeks had been one long disillusionment. And yet she was now overwhelmed with eraving for companionship, for articulate speech, as if she had never looked into a book or given a thought to the deep things of life. If this man beside her would only do some thing, say something, be something rather than a silent satellite forever staring in wonder. If she could only solve the mystery of his presence, answer the interrogation that his very existence there alone presented. Her future, her present, indeed, should have engrossed her mind. What she was to do, how she was to live, the terrible problems in which his presence on the island involved her should have been the objects of her attention; they should have afforded food for thought to the keenest of women. She simply forgot them in her puzzled wonder at him lt would have been much simpler from one point of view if she had found tho island uninhabited, and yet since the man was human and alive, in spite of her judgment, her heart was glad that he was there.

She motioned to him to sit down and then she sat in front of him and studied him. He looked as little like a fool as like a knave. She could, indeed, detect no evidence of any intellectual capacity, but she thought, as she studied him keenly, that he possessed unlimited intellectual possibilities. There was a mind back of those bright hlue eyes, that hroad noble hrow, but it seemed to her a mind entirely undeveloped, mind utterly latent. Here was a soul, she thought half in fancy, half in earnest, that was virgin to the world. How wise, how deeply learned she might he she was face to face with this primeval norm.

Tha Silance of the Man Oppresse Her.

Could she teach this man anything? He seemed tractable, reverential, deferential now. Knowledge was power. Would it be power with him? Could she open those sealed doors of his mind, what floods would outpour therefrom, of power, of passion? Would she be swapt away? It mattered not. She must try. The impulse seized her to begin now. Fixing her dark eyes upon him, she pointed directly at him with her finger.

"Man," she said clearly and em-

He was always looking at her. He had scarcely taken his eyes from her since she had seen him in the tail grass by the shore, but at her gesture and word his eyes brightened. There was that little wrinkling of the hrow again which she had noticed, outward and visible sign of an inward attempt at comprehension.

"Man!" she said passionately. "Man," she repeated over and over again.

And then the unexpected happened. After innumerable guttural attempts, her unwitting pupil managed to articulate something that hore a distinct resemblance to the clearly cut monosyllable.

"Man!" he said at last.

It was a tremendous step in evolution, almost too great for any untutored human brain, for at once the man before her received a name and the idea of name as well. In that instant, on the heaven kissed hill, he was differentiated from all the rest of creation forever. His consciousness hitherto vague, floating, incoherent, indefinite, was localized, given a habitation and a name. He knew himself in some way to be.

"Man!" he cried, growing more and more confident with every repetition and more and more accurate in eatching the very intonation with which ahe spoke.

"Man!" he cried, laying his hand upon his breast. "Man!"

He leaped to his feet and stretched out his arms. The doors were open a little way. Ideas were beginning to edge their way through the crack.

edge their way through the crack.
"Man! Man! Man!" he eried again and again, looking eagerly at her.

She rose in turn and patted him or the aboulder encouragingly as she might a dog. And again the touch, the second touch that she had given him, affected him strangely, so strangely that for a moment she felt the soul within her shrink, but realising inetantly that her domination over him was epiritual and immaterial and that the slightest evidence of timidity would be translated into universal language which even the lowest creation understands and that her dominion would go on the instant, she mastered herself and mastered him. Although she was but a woman whom he might have broken in his hands, she domlnated him as the conscious soul ever dominates the naconscious soul.

She easayed no more lessons, hat turned and retraced her way to the shore where she had landed, which because she had landed there, she called home. On the way she attempted an experiment. She plucked from a low bush a bright colored fruit of whose quality and characteristics she was ignorant and slowly made as if to convey it to her lips.

"Man!" esied the voice behind her, uttering its only word.

She turned to find her companion

looking fixedly at her and proffering other fruit which he had quickly gathered. She handed him that she had plucked in exchange. He shook his head, not in negation but rather in hewilderment and threw it from him. and then she understood in some way that the fruit was not good for food. How he had divined it, she could not teil. Some compensating instinct. sharpened by use into a protecting quality, had taught him. She had no such instinct. She had learned to depend upon reason and Aservation, and these falled her in we presence of this unknown She was humbled a little in this thought.

She craved meat and sait, having been trained to these things, the artificial diet and atiniulant to which she had become accustomed, and her craving was the more insistent because she had been without them all that time in the boat. And yet when she had eaten the fruit that nature had provided in that tropic island, her eraving was abated and she was satisfied. She felt that she could soon grow accustomed to such a diet if it were necessary. So musing she passed on under the trees and sat down on the sand again. The next thing she remembered, she was unclosing her eyes as she had done early in the morning and the man was still watching by her side, She had been so utterly wearled by her strange adventure, by her long wrestling with thirst and starvation in the open hoat that hefore she knew it weariness overcame her. He had watched by her side without molesting her. It was late in the evening now. The problem of the night had to be faced. This time the man took the initiative. He walked along the shore a little way and then looked back at her, and repeated the process once or twice as a dog might have done who was desirous of bringing his master to some appointed place. Understanding she rose and followed him. He led her along the sands now shadowed by the tall palms until they came to the rivulet, where she stopped and drank once more. They passed it, he plunging hodily through its shallows; she leaping from rock to rock until she reached the other hank. He went swiftly around the face of the cliff. As she passed the point she saw that it curved suddenly inward away from the shores into a sort of amphitheater and fair in the center of the face she perceived an opening He halted there and entered fearlesely, she following.

The cave was roomy and spacious, at least it seemed so in the fading light. In the morning when the sun abone through the opening, it would be flooded with daylight, but now when the sun was sinking behind the hill, it was quite dark. It was dry and clean and apparently empty. The man stood looking at her smiling, at least there was a suggestion of a smile upon his lips. He was nodding his head. She understood that he lived there. The dog had come back to his kennel and had taken this acquaintance there, too.

It would he a good place to pass the night. The night had to be passed somewhere. How, was the problem. She had little fear of any savage animals on the island. There had been no evidence of them observed in her progress; the man himself was testimony to immunity of attack from that source. Had it not been for him, she could have lain down in that cave with quiet confidence and slept without apprehension of molestation, hut he complicated the issue.

Twice he had watched by her asleep, but that was in the broad daylight. When darkness came, what then? Her heart was filled with terror. She was suddenly afraid of the dark, a childish fear at which her soul would have mocked in other days and under other conditions. But now she was a prey to vivid apprehension and the night was coming on with the swiftness of the tropics. She was glad that she had siept through the long afternoon. She' would endeavor to keep awake during the night. She must turn the dog out of his kennel and occupy that herself. How was she to enforce her will under the circumstances? She could only try.

"Man," she said, pointing to the door, "go!"

The words conveyed nothing, but the gesture meant much. Even to the man association with his kind for one day had effected a revolution in him. He hung undecided, however, before her, while she repeated again and sgain her injunction. Finally she took him by the shoulder, risking the peculiar emotions that contact seemed to bring to him, and thurst him gently through the entrance outside. Then the went back into the cave farther and waited with a beating heart. She could see him allhouetted against the twilight standing where she had left him. He came toward the door at last and stood in the entrance.

"Plo, no!" ahe cried flercely, praying that the note of terror might be lost in the imperative tones of her voice. "Man. go!"

She stood waiting and he likewise. Mustering her courage at last, she went over to him and thrust him out. Again and again the little drama was played until by and hy it became impressed upon the mind of the man that he was to stay out and she was to stay in. He came no more to the entrance. He stood outside, aloof, looking in, although in the growing darkness he could not see her.

It was the second thing he had learned. The first ray of light in his dawning consciousness had illuminated the ego, the personal, the concrete. He was learning now the significance of a verb and an abstract idea was being bred in him and some concept of constraint was entering his being. The first of those long checks that circumstances impose npon freedom in order that civilization may beta to be was then meeting him face to face. He had slept in that ceve, she imagined, for years, and suddenly ha was thrust out. There was no hardchip in that, except the hardship in the necessity for obedience, if hardehip that might he. The night was balmy and pleasant; no shelter was needed. It was the fact that he had to go; that he was subject to another will and purposs; that something higher than himself was overruling him which might he hard. It would heve been herd for the women. She thought, however, that the limited inherited prejudices, devoid of old sucomprehension of the man might not anable him to realize it.

He stood a long time on the sand while she watched him. Ifad she con quered? itad he tearned his tesson? liad she laid foundations upon which chance had placed her. She would play consciousness of life and its reletions might be builded? Would she be free from the terror of molestation, which in spite of herself sought expression upon that island, the rest of the world in her voice and menner? Would sha be permitted to pass the night undis turbed? Was her power over him sufficiently definite to he established and to he of value? Suppose she had not aucceeded in mastering him, in dominating him? She shuddered at the probabilities invoived. Of all the bensts of the field, the most terrible when he is a beast is man.

She was not a weak woman. She was above the middle height, athietic. spiendidly developed, accustomed to the exercises of the gymnasium end match for his. One ray of safety appeared in the fact that she believed : him ignorant aliks of the extent of his power or of the possibilities of the eituation. She wondered what stranged thoughts were going on in that fatent! brain ovar which by the use of moral force and courage she was striving to establish domination. She rejoiced to find that even in the midst of her anxletias she could think so clearly about the situation.

Hs Stood for s Long Time on tha Sand.

Did he know his lesson, she won-She could only hope. if she only had a weapon, sha thought, the waakness of sax might be equalized. Thara was nothing. Yes, her thought reverted to the womaniy pair of sciseors. With trembling hand she draw tham forth and cienched the little tool of stael tightly. It was a poor dapendonce but the host she had. And then ceasas of the cava and sat down leaning against the wall, bar eyes bright with dread, anticipation and curiosity. Sha watched and waited, rasolved if necassary to remain awake the long ing. night through.

Outside the man had stood motionless a long time after the final repuise. The dusk had not yet meited into dark out there and he was sasily visible against the sky framed by the opening as a dim picture. She was hardly awara of the intensity with which she watched him and she was greatly surprisad when she saw him at last kneel down upon the sands. She saw that tha paims of his hands were pressed togsthar in front of him; that his head was howed, that his attitude was that of prayer! He was seying something. She could hear him without difficulty. She could distinguish no words in the rude succession of sounds that assumed to come from his lipa, but her acute and quickaged perception seemad to recognize a nearar recemblance to articulate speech than anything she had yet heard from bim.

What was ha doing? In a flash the woman realized that the man was praying. The realization amote her lika a hiow, for this woman had long alace put away prayer. In her philosophy of life there was no piece for God; in har scheme of affairs the Divine was unimminent. And yet alone on that islend, in the darkness, despite har attempt to mock away tha conaciousnass, she was raileyed at that

The little ritual on the sand ended with the one word her pupil knew.

"Man!" ba asid striking his breas again and staring upward toward the keavens. "Man!" ha cried as if in his naw consciousness be would fain introduca himself to his Maker, the women thought. "Hie Maker!" her lips writhed into a bitter smile that was half a sneer.

What wauld he do naxt? Ha rosa to his feet and peeped toward tha door. She graaped the acissors tightor and hald har braath. But he had learned his lesson. With indeacribable railef she saw him turn aside and cast himsaif down upon the sand where he lay motioniess. If she had had any faith she would have breathed "Thank God!" As it was, she was very glad.

Sha watched him a long time, apec ulating on the questions she had asked him on the hill in the morning; who he was what he was; whence he came; where he had learned that babspeech; what was the God to whom he prayed? She would atudy those things. The problems fascinated har. The desolation and loneliness of tha Island might have crushed her. Relieved from her immediata apprehensions the man delighted her. She would investigate him, enalyze him, synthesize him, teach him. She would mother him as a woman a child. No such opportunity os was hers had ever presented itself to a human being. Free, as she imagined hertelf, from perstitions, cremmed with new learning, illuminated with new light, abhorrent of narrow things, she fencied herself well fitted for that strangely maternal and preceptive role in which upon that mind virgin to her touch, if she might use a women's word, until it ran in hermony with her own. Alone away, she would find occupation, interest, inspiration in that nascent

ite isy so still end so quiet that presently she aross and tiptoed softly to the entrance where unseen she could look down upon him. The moon rose back of the bill. Although he wes in the shadow, there was still refraction sufficient to enable her to see his face. He was asleep. The quiet, dreemiess, unvexed sleep of a heeithy animal, she thought. Their positions were reversed. He hed watched her before when she was off guard and esleep with what dim, dumb, incheate effort it might he to comprehend her. Now it was her turn. He took no disfavor in her mind after her inspection. He was a hold, splendid piece of . . . what? Cley. She would put n soul in him, her soul. Her soul was the only thing she knew. She forgot, or if she remembered it, disdained the ancient concept that before the dust of the earth hecama alive it had to ha permeated with the breath not merely of men or women, but of God. She came back at last and sought her corner, disposed her limbs to rest and kept through silent hours her lonely vigit. So long as he slept she was safe. When he awakened, what then? So long as his mind siept, his soul elept, his consciousness slept, she wes safe, but when they, too, awakened, when whetaoever light there might he that dawns in personality dispelled the night of idle dreems in which ha fived, what would happen instinctively she shrank from the thought of the future. She wes as ona who had a potent talisman in her hand the field, but her strength was no and feared to put it to the touch So the fisherman in the Arabian tale, if he had known the contents of the corked bottle thrown up from the sea. might have hesitated ere he drew the stopper and released the prisoned apirit. She must watch, she must wait, she must be on her guard. She forkot that when she had called him "Man" and laid ber hand upon his shoulder she had begun an evolution which no human power could stop.

Navar had the hours seemed so long and so strangs to her. Nothing happened. Even the capacity to think gives out in the strongast mind, that acutest brain, temporarily or otherwise. Sha was very tired; the silenca was opprassive; the rusty scissors fell from har hand and at last she slipped down upon the sand and drifted away into that slumbar, that suspension of consciousnass in which for the moment she was aven as the man.

The upper edge of the sun was just springing from the ees when its level rays woka har. Sha opened har ayes to find the man standing in the open-

CHAPTER III.

The Word of the Book.

This awakening was not as had bean that of yesterday. She prided heraelf on heing in full possession of her facuities at once and she arose instantly and stepped out upon the sand. The man gave way to her respectfully as she passed through the entrance. The mind is brightest in the early morning after sleep. She would give him another concept before the uses of the day, impaired his recentivity. She had differentiated him from the rest of creation when she taught him that he was a man. She would show him now that his was a divided empire by decloring herself a woman. She laid her hand upon her own breast and said clearly: "Woman!" giving the first syllebla the long "o" and definitely accenting the second. She pointed to him and repeated "Man;" to hereelf and repeated "Woman." Patiently over and over sgain she said the word until hy and by he could eay it, too.

The baby begins his language with monoavilable sounds which mean littie and yet which have been identified with the mother. It was fitting that this man who was as a child and yat as a man should begin with something deepsr than infantile habble.

Man and woman!-she drove these two ideas into hie consciousness he fore she ceased her task. If his idea of men was at first infinite, she gave him the concept of limitatione immediately following.

Ha was avid for instruction. Once ha had learned the words, he habbled them "man, woman, man, woman, until the iteration was almost mad-

While she washed har face and bands at the stream he plunged into a hrimming pool fed by the brook ere it descended to the sea. She noticed that he could swim like a fish itself, naturally, instinctively, in an untrained way of course, without the fancy strokes is which she had been taught, but brilliantly and wall, nevertheless. She would have given the world for a dip, but it was not to be,

not yat, that is. Then they brankfested and she tried

hie of prayar; why ha was devoid of | to teech him "No" and "Yes" and the meening thersof. She intended to make a circuit of the island later, but there wes no hurry. She begen to realize that time was aothing to her or to him, end so sha idled under the trees; satting him tasks es the picking of fruit end then stopping him with "No" and encouraging him with "Yes" until he had some idee of those words also, it was a relief to her to get' them firmly fixed in hie mind, for they provided him with alternetives to the man end woman words on which he herned

After a while they started around the island. It was perhaps six or eight miles in circumference. There was a send bench everywhere, except in one place where the rocks came sheer down to the shore. From what she could tell by an inspection of the surface there was an under-water entrance to some cave in the rocks which some day might he worth expioring.

On the other side of the islend from the cave, which was already denominated home in her mind, she came across the remains of a ship's boat deep hedded in the send. The host hed been perhaps wrecked and broken on the harrier reef, or possibly it had salled through the entrance near at hand-the only opening in the encircling guard of splintered rock which she hed seen-and had been hurled upon the heach where it had lain through years until hurled in the shifting send. Only the gunwales of the boat and the stem and the stern were exposed. She had no idea es to what its condition was, but she promised that so soon as she could she would make shift at something for a shovel end dig it out. She gazed at it for a long time wondering if it were an explanation of the presence of the solitary inhabitent of the island, but nothing was to be gained by wonderment and speculation.

A little stream she noticed trickled from under a thick covert across the sand toward the sea. She turned and idly walked eway from the beach, foilowing the stream. The men, who had stood with her watching the hoet, did not for a moment notice her, but so soon as he discovered her direction, ran after her end without offering to touch her harred the way with extended arms.

"No, no!" he cried, his first real spontaneous use of the word.

She stopped, reflected, waved the man aside and went on. There wes something in the coppice that he feared. She had not known that he possessed the feculty. Her curlosity was too strong to he denied. Sha must see what it was. She quicksned her nece as if to shake him off, but he seally kept by her side plaintively eleculating his monosyliabic negative. it was evident that he knsw the meaning of the word, she was glad to see,

When she reached the undergrowth of the coppice, she hesitated in apprehansion of she knew not what, but summoning her courage parted tha reeds and peered in them. She shrank back with a sudden cry of horror, for at her feet, the vegetation springing through in avery direction, lay a skeleton, a human skeleton. It lay athwart her path and et the feet was a smaller skeleton which she judged to he that of a dog. With instinctive repugnance she released the rushea and turned hastily away.

Sha Shrank Back with a Sudden Cry of Horror.

"Yes, yes," asid the man hy her side with an exprassion of unusual reitef on his face which she could scarcely fail to notice.

She knew that she could not thus evede her duties or shrink from her probleme. She hed marked the gleem of metal amid the bones. She knew that sha would have to come hack and examina those last remainders of buman presence, other than their own, upon the island, but she could not do it just then.

discovered on her tour about her prison until she raturned to the cave. It was afternoon by this time and shadetermined to employ some of her hours in a mora careful inspection of it. Realizing that the lesson of the night before if re-enforced and maintained would atand har in good stead, sha made the man ramain outside while she went within. Her hope was to eatablish in his mind a custom of avoidance of that recess which should develon into a fixed habit, else sha could not he free. She could always sacura a few moments respite from his presence, at least she had done so haretofore, but she did not dere to try how he would sustain longer absences. hence the necessity for establishing harsalf in the cave se a harbor of refuge, a sanctuary. At first glance there was nothing quastion of ciothes was becoming a within the little epartment, washad out eges ego from the herd stone hy what action of water she could well imagine, but as she scrutinized it closely sha noticed in a recess a part where the rock wail cropped out in a sort of low shelf. On the shelf-wondar of wonders!-iey a hook. Next to humanity, a hook, she thought, would ha the most precious sharer of her solltude.

It was a small, leether-bound volume. Dust in the form of tiny perticles of sand lay thick upon it. cave was sheltered from the prevailing winds else it might have been hurled. but under the circumstances it might have lain there for ages and in that dry, purs eir have suffered no daterioration or decay.

Crusoa was petrified when he saw the footprint in the send. The woman was not less startled or less amazed when she sew the book on the rock. With a little cry of delight she steppsd toward it, hent down, lifted it up. handling it carafully in spite of nervous exuitation, shook the dust from it, and opened it. She instantly let it fall from her hands with a look of disappointment and disgust. One giance was enough. The book was the Bible. She had no interest in the Bible, a collection of ancient genealogies end time-worn febles, myths for the creduious and impossible tengends, mixed up with poetry whose inspiration was trivial and history whose details were faise. For this woman, who had forgottan how to prey and who had ahoiished God, hed little use for the Book of Books. Rather any other printed page, she hed thought bitterly, than that one.

She had acted upon impulse, not in her disdain for the Bible and that for which it stood-that was grounded upon reason and philosophy, she fondly believed-but in her action in casting it from her. It had no more than rolled upon the sand at her feet when, with swift reconsideration, she stooped and lifted it again. It had occurred to her that there might be writing therein and that the writing might give her a clew to the mystery of the man. She knew that births and deaths were frequently entered upon the blank leeves interposed between the Old and New Testaments. Unfamiliar though she was with the contents of the book, she easily found the place and eegerly looked at the leaves. Alas, they were blank. She turned to the fly leaves at the heginning of the hook. There was a name written there and in a women's hand.

"John Reveil Charnock." sha read. Below wes a dete 25 years before the moment of her landing.

John Revell Charnock. It was strange neme, English in part, with a suggestion of France in the middle name. It meant nothing to her. Was this John Revail Charnock who stood outside looking at her? if so, who was John Raveil Charnock? The probism was not grantly elucidated. There was no evidence that the book belonged to the man or the man to the book, or even that the one appertained ramotely to the other. There was a cartain ilkalihood, howaver, that thay had come to the briand together.

She had been sure that the man was white man. She had thought that he lookad like an American, an Engishman, an Angio-Saxon, and the longer she looked at him with the Bible in her hand the mora sura aba

Sha had been disappointed that the book had turned out to be the Bible, hut at lasst it would serve one uesful purposa. By it, without the isherious affort involved in making latters upon the sand, she might teach the man before her to read. She wished she had a worthler volume from her point of view through which to introduce him to the world's literature, hut she would do the hest sha could with that. It was pitiful, as she saw it, that with a nascant soul to work with, she should he compelled to enlighten it through the madium of timeworn superstition.

Bslow the shelf, not quite burisd in the sand, there was a small metal hox. She knelt down, scraped the sand away and presently uncovered it. It appeared to be of sliver. It was of such a size that sha could clasp it sasily in her hand. She opened it not without some difficulty and found within it-nothing! Well, not exactly nothing, but certainly that for which sha could sea little value. There were several hard pieces of stone of a reddish color chipped and sheped in curtous fashion. She turned the hox over and examined it on all sidee. There were initials upon it, a monogram. She rubbed it clean with her hands and studied it carefully-"J. R. C." hook and the hox had belonged to the aame person, John Ravell Charnock.

She iaid the box aside and saerched tha cave further. Thera was absolutely nothing else to be seen. Disappointed vagualy, although she hed expected nothing and had gotten more, indeed, than abe might have imagined if she had thought about it, she laid There was nothing else that she the hook and box down upon the ledge and went out again. She walked along the eands until aha came to the place where she had landed the day be fora. The tida was low. She could aea the wreck of har boat, partly on the harriar reaf and partly in the water. It would have been no trick for her to swim to it in the stillness, yat she hesitated to attempt it. Cer tainly weighted down hy all har clothing it was a matter of difficulty and inconvenianca. If it were not for this man by her aide! She tried to think of some way to restrain him, keep him away, but nothing occurred to har. Invantion was paralyzed by the situation in which sha found herself.

Desperataly bidding him stay where he was, she want back to the cave. She was face to face with a crisis which had to he met. Indeed, the very serious one with her and she knew she should have to decids upon some course of ection immediately.

For the present, she took off her garments, hoping and preying in a shiver of dread and anxlety, that he would rsmein where she hed left him, which indeed proved the fact. She leid aside ail thet she had worn except the blouse and skirt, including her eedly worn shoes and stockings. Thus lightly clad she came out on the send again. ife did not notice any changs in her condition. As a matter of fact she gave him no time, for she flashed across the sand at full spead and plunged holdly into the smiling weter of the iagoon. He followed her instently and swam by her side with scarcely any exertion whatever.

it was not long before she reeched the harrier reef. It stood up a foot or two above the water now, the tide heing low, and she clemhered upon it. The sherp rocks cut her naked end tender feet, unused to such exertions and unfitted to such demands, but she persevered. The hoat had been heaten to pieces. it had been forced over the reef by the burl of the sea. The stern had been wedgsd in between some projecting rocks. The rest of it hed been torn away and had failen into the lagoon. There was no wind. the sea was unruffled. She could see as if through e glass the wrecked remeins of the hoat. There wer nothing in it except the battered motor, useless for days before she landed, since her supply of gasoline had been exhausted. Everything else had been washed out of it and carried into the deeper recesses of the legoon where they were inaccessible to the human vision.

Stop! Under what remained of & plece of thwart she caught a little gleam of metal. Calculating the distance nicely, she plunged in and dove. Keeping her eyes open she easily found the piece of metal, dislodged it from the place where it had fallen and came to the surface with it. it was a sailor's sheath knife with a bit of ianyard fastened to it. She had had a fancy to wear it in her sailor's blouse and she had missed it since she had come ashore.

But there was nothing else in the hoat, not a thing; nothing on the herrier reef. She tried to pull the stern away where it had been wedged, but found that impossible. She tugged at it vailantly, but could not move it. in despeir she turned to the man who had watched silently as usual and pointed. He seemed to understand, for he came end with great effort lifted the torn part of the hoat from the rocks and laid it down at her fest. She threw it into the water, where, of course, as it was wood, it floated easily. Than, with a nod to him she plunged in and togsther they guided it to the shore, he taking his cue from her action.

Sha had a fancy to test his strength and she managed to convey to him by signs, mainly by trying herself in vain to pull it apart, what sha wished him to do. The impossible to har was child's play to him, and in a moment the sevaral places of the host which made up tha stern were acattered on the heach. There was one straight pieca which went across the stern of the hoat and made a little box for the coxswain to sit in, which would do for a shovel. It was too wide, but she broke it against a big stone and was possessed of what she wanted. The ands were rough and sarrated and unfit for har hands, but these she smoothed by the aid of her knife. She sharpened the other end and soon had a ruda semblanca of a shovel. Sha intended to use that on the heet on the sand the next day. Finished with this, she looked at the man and sighed in despair. Could she aver get rid of him? Instantly there flashed into her mind that which she had before overlooked as of no moment. A long, heavy hoat rope. the hoet's peinter, she had noticed when she dove lay floating by the side of the boat from which it had not hesn severed. An idea came to her. Dronning the shovel and followed by her satellite, she plunged in once more and again swam to the hoet. Wasting no time, she dova as before, found the rope and having previously opened her knife, cut it quickly and came to the surface gasping.

There were perhape 10 or 12 feet of it. It was a atout piece of rope, of unusual quality, as had been everything on board the yacht. The very best of etuff had gone into it and sha did not beliave any man on earth could break it. She had amused ber self on the cruise by learning the rudiments of seamanship and she could tie knots like any sailor. This little eccomplishment wea to stand her in good stead. She wrapped the rope around her neck, plunged in the iagoon for the third time, and swam once mora to the ahore.

Sha led the way up the sands to the palm grove. Then she tied the rope around the man'e neck, act in a silp noose, of course, but is a hard circle, and quickly made a running bowline around the nearest tree. He had not made the elightest raeistance. He had no idea avidently of what ahe was doing or the purport of her motions. Then sha turned and went away from him quickly. Ha started for her at once and was nearly jerked from his fact by the tautaning of the rope. It was a new aituation for him, yet his hands instinctively went to his throat and ha strove to taar away the noosa, putting forth such a prodigious amount of strength that ahe stood in horror iast he should pert the lashing. But it was made of stout atuff and he had so purchase; although he pulled until the aweat stood out on his forshead from the violence of his efforte, they were of no avail. She had not dared to interfere or to say a word, but when she saw his efforts aleckan, she painted to the sands to indicate ta him that he was to sit down, and then she went away conscious that while the rope held sha was free. She was conscious of another thing, too, and that was that be was learning a sad and hitter lesson of physical rastraint to which he had never before hees subject.

She had rejoiced in his companies ship, of course. It had given her some thing to do, her mind something to work upon, and would do more in the future, but she never enjoyed a mo ment's freedom more. She ran to the little amphitheater formed by the cliffs where the cave was and throw ing aside her blouse and skirt, she last uriated in a bath in the fresh, cool delightful waters of the pool at the base of the fail. There was a certain amount of apprehension, for, of course. he might break his tether et any time, hut she was sufficiently confident act to let this take away the plassurs she felt in the beth of fresh water after the long experience with the selt seas.
If she had had a cake of soep she would have been completely happy.

She had much to do and she coul not linger. For one thing, sha hed face tha problems of ciothes. She he absolutely nothing when she land except what she wore. Besides the usual underwear these consisted ber blue serge blouse and skirt short skirt at that-and a sitk petticoat. She left the blouse and skirt outside on the rocks where they would soon dry in the sun. They had been wetted so often that there was no possibility of their shrinking further Then she took stock of the rest. With needles and thread, of which possessed some store in the housewill which had been saved from her bashe thought she could make shift to manufacture three or four garments open at the nack, without sleaves and with skirts that came to the knee garmants just sufficient for modest?

A Gissming Figure Like en Olympian Goddass.

There was no other used for clother so far as that went, in that balma island.

Naturally she shrank from this, but unless she restorted to this axpedient har clothes would wear out all onca. Indeed, thay were in none too good a condition as it was, and when they were worn out she would have nothing. She would not have heat tated a moment had it not bean for the man, but man or not, the decision in her mind was one to which she must come.

Unitka most overeducated women she was still apport with her needla and as her garments were to be o the simplest she had not much diff. culty in making over her eilk skirt in the way she fencied. Belted is at tha walst, it would do. She would use the rope that hound the man for that purpose, keeping it always about her. Sha had, of course, but one pair of stockings and one pair of light canvas hosting shoes, which were almost cut to pieces. She would have to go hare-

Putting her blue sergs dress and tha rest of her clothing carefully away, inculding her shoes and stockings, she stepped out on the sands, bare armed, hare footed, a gleaming figure like to an Olympian goddses. She was a woman naturally dark in complexion, and while the sun would probably burn her cruelly and hurn her young flesh, nevar exposed to its latensity, darkar, she would not grow red or blister. She was thankful for that with unconscious faminishty. At any rata, she must get used to going out in the sun without a hat, too. Peopla, natives wha ware horn and lived in this' latitude, did hecome accustomed to such things, she knew, so undoubtedly could aha.

With these thoughts, she stepped around the headland and walked across the heach toward the paim trea where ahe could see in the fading light of the afternoon her prisoner was atill tied.

Modesty is a negative tarm. That which is indecant exposura in a ballroom is the height of convention on a ana shore. Certainly this man had no concept of such a quality. He had not noticed before when she had come out barefoot to swim to the barriar reef, and yet somehow sha funciad an he stared at har approaching that this time he marked the difference. And a slow, flary blush flamed over her from her bara feet to har bare head, extended along her have arms. Sha stopped under the persuasion of impulse to turn and go back to the cave and resume her clothing, at least so long as it might last. But she was a woman of strong will. She reasoned that all the emotions to which she was aubject were in her own hoaom; that the men before har nelther knew aor cared as to the things which vaxed her. So she went on. Sha had in her hend the sallor's knifa, with the hiada open. Sha could (To be continued.)

cow. G. D. Hopper.

Statiford, Ky.

hald, Ky.

Carter.

Roberts, Hubble.

PARMER'S DEPARTMENT.

For Sale-Extra good Jersey milk

For Sale-100 foot tobacco bed. A.

R. Robbins. Stantord. Phone 169-4. Wanted two good horses five to seven Jears old, must be strictly sound

FOR SALE.

13 horse power traction engine comparatively new. Run only a short time last season. W. L. Cordier, Row-

For Sale,-90-acre farm well located

In Pulaski county. If you are looking for a farm at your own price see me.

For Sale,-Half dozen nice thorough hred Black Berkshire boars. J. T.

A carload of nice Western horses Jist received and for sale J. Nevin

Estray heifer came to my place on June 18. Owner can get same by paying for keep and for this ad. R. G.

Jones & Cress shipped a car load of hogs to Green, Embry & Co., of Cincinnati this week. They paid from

Lightning last week killed five fine brood mares, three royally bred colts, belonging to James B. Haggin, on his Emendorf farm, near Lexington

SOME KENTUCKY FAIR DATES

Lancaster, July 27-3 days.

Versailles, Aug. 3-4 days.

Lexington, Aug. 8-6 days.

Taylorsville, Aug. 9-4 days.

Brodhead, Aug. 17-3 days.

Harrodeburg, Aug 9-4 days.

Shelbyville, Aug. 23-4 days.

Nicholasville, Aug. 30-3 days.

Barbourville, Aug. 31-3 days.

State Fair, Louisville, Sept. 12-6

LANCASTER, KY.

BUYER OF

All Kinds of Farm Produce

Stanford Branch-T. K. Tudor, M'g'r.

WE ARE PAYING TODAY FOR:

EXCHANGE FOR PRODUCE.

YANKEE DOODLE'S PONY

was nit right because he had good

Wouldn't a new harness for the 4th make him look a signt better? We nave just the set to suit him and to sult you and your pocketbook. Saddles as well both for ponles and luli sized horses. Come, see and admire.

J. C. McCLARY, Stanford, Ky.

Stock For Sale!

tying leer. Sice is sound and is a fair so er PRIAH DUNN Hustonville

B. D. CARTER,

STANFORD, KENTUCKY.

200,000 Feet of Lumber

Depot Street,

I have 200,000 feet of fundamental suitable for tobacco barns and other suitable for I have 200,000 feet of lumber prices. Call on me or write me for prices and tell me what you want, and I can suit you.

WALKER OWENS,

Shipping Point Mt Veernon.

Phone 96,

At The Right Prices.

Pongo, Ky

New Livery.

Phone 153

Northcott.

Monticello, Sept. 6, -3 days.

Glasgow, Sept. 28-4 days.

London, Aug. 23-4 days.

August 17, 18 and 19 have been •e

e ted as the dates for the Perryville

Danville, Aug. 3-3 days.

to 8 1.2 cents for them.

F. A. Ross, Kings Mountain, Ky.

3t.

35-3

MONEY CANNOT BUY A BETTER PAINT THAN

HANNA'S GREEN SEAL

The Paint possessing every essential quality. Nothing in it but what should be there. Nothing lacking that will improve it.

Pigments scientifically combined, and finely ground in Pure

"The Made to Wear Paint"

that outwears all others, and that in wearing away does so gradually leaving a perfect surface for repainting.

Says:

"I know what is good for young and old peo-ple," writes Mrs. Clara

Dykstra, a trained nurse

of South Bellingham, Wash., "and will say that I consider Cardul the best medicine for girls and women. It makes them feel like new persons, relieves their pain and regulates womanly troubles.

"Both my daughter and I received great benefit."

The Woman's Tonic

As a medicine for fe-male trouble, no medicine you can get has the old established reputation,

Fifty (53) years of success prove that it has stood the greatest of all men, Cardui is the best, because it is a woman's tonic.

Pure, gentle, safe, re-liable. Try Cardui.

Ottenheim.

a few days and then go to Chicago,

Mr. Adolph Spitzer and sister are

Walter Warfield, of Highland, was there from Wisconsin visiting relatives

over Saturday to see his Irlend, alerman picnic the Fourth The bad weather was the only unpleasant fea-

Hon. W. S. Burch atlended the

Fred Handorf has bought a new

J. C. McClary,

with Mrs. John Wentzel.

Frank Wienlies.

moved to Tennessee.

mre home from Cincinnati.

German plenic Monday,

Mrs. Annie Eyer and children, of Realestate mortgages

Mr. Ben Henzen, also of Cincin- Other Stocks, Honds, Etc.

Mrs. Leo Ever spent several days | U.S. and Nat. Bank notes

There was a large crowd at the Deposits subject to check on which

Specie

Dverdrafts, secured

Furniture and fixtures

Capital stock paid in, in cash

Interest is not paid Savings l'eposits (on which interest is paid)

Banking house

Surplus fand

Undivided profits

mati, epent a week her with his father. Due from National Banks aCincinnati, are here for their health. Call loans on colinteral sville Saturday where she will visit Ourrent expenses paid

Miss licien Wientjes went to Lou- Taxes

tests—the test of TIME. As a tonic for weak wo-that Cardui has.

L. SANDERS, Crab Orchard, and G. B. PRUITT, Moreland,

Crab Orchard Banking Co.

Doing business at Crab Orchard, Lincoln

County. Ky.,

At the close of business June 21, 1910,

Liabilities:

1.500 (0)

1,500 00

21,771 75

Loans and Discounts with one or

U.S. and National Bank Notes

Checks and other cash Items

lical estatz-marking house

Capital stock puld in, in cush

posits subject to check con

emand certificates of deposits

Notes and bills rediscounted which interest is not paid)

(on which interest is paid)

State of Kentucky, County of Lincoln, Set

W. E. Perkins, J. H. Collier, Curtis Gover

Report of The Condition of The

Waynesburg Deposit Bank,

Doing business at Waynesburg, Lincoln County, Ky.,

At the close of business Jane 30, 1910,

Resources.

Liabilities.

L. G. Gooch, J. W. Acton, R. Curtis Directors.

EXCURSION

AND RETURN

QUEEN&CRESCENT

Loans and discounts with one or more endorsers as sarety

and Mortgages

Other Stocks, Bonds Etc.

Overdrafts, secured

Current expenses paid

Furniture and fixtures

Surnins Funds

'ndly'ded profits

Due from National Banks

more endorsers as sureties

Report of the Condition of

The National Bank of Hustonville, serve agents)

viz: Apecie $11,895 % Legal-tender noies. 15,745 10 lair Rademption fund with I'.s. Treasurer o per cent of circulation 1.200 0

LIABILITIES.

t, J. O. Balley, eachier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above scattement to true to the best of my knowl-edge and beilef.

J. O. Blatley, Cashler. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7 day of July 1910. My commission expires Jun'y 251913. John Koniston N. P.

Iteport of The Condition of The Doing business in the town of McKinney Lincoln Sounty, Ky., At the close of business June 3), 1910.

Resources. Loans and discounts with one or more endorsers as surety Real estate mortgages Die from National lianks 917 82 Due from Minie Banks and Bankers U. S. and National Bank Notes Checks and other cash items $47,415 10 Overdrafts, secured Overdrafts (unseenred.) $15,000 (Onrrent expenses paid 1,200 00 Real estate, banking house Furniture and fixtures 2,243 (1 $40,400 1 Liabilities:

410 (16 Oapital stock paid in, in cash Surplus fund grome of his brother who recently state of Kentucky, County of Lincoln, 8 s. $117,415 10 l'individed profils nome of his brother who recently a state of the short of the nbove named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my known from Chalmanti Gangloff Stanley McIntosu, Cashier. Beposits subject to check on which Interest is not paid Notes and Illis rediscounted Subscribed and sworn to before me this day of Jatv 19.4 G. B. Cooper, Clk. L. C. C. By W. F. Casaden, D. C.

I, R. H. Metcaif, cushier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true 10 the best of my knowledge and fields. E. H. METCALF, Onshier, Subscribed and sworn to before me this thi day of, July, 1910. harness, How about your steed;

at Hustonville, in the State of Kentucky, at the close of business June 31, 1910.

$138,150 60 Loans and Discounts ... Overdrafts, secured and unsecured U. S. Bonds to secure circulation Premiums on U.S. Bonds 132 20 Banking house, furniture, and fix-2,91) (k Due from National Banks (not re-

Due from State and Private Banks & Bankers, Trust Companies and Savings Banks Due from approved reserve agents 29,671 58 Checks and other cash items ... 188 76 Notes of other National Banks Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cenis ...-

Lawful Money Reserve to Bank, 135 54 $216,914 P.

$216.814.99 State of Keniucky, County of Lincoin, sa:

1, J. W. Hocker, Cashier of the above-named bans, do solemniy swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

J. W. Hocker, Cashier subsection of the countries of the co

McKinney Deposit Bank,

LIME AND SALT FOR SALE OR IN We can please you.

$15,000 (I 2,000 0 43 1 41,794 0 2,000 (1) $51,530 1 State of Kentucky, (bunty of Lincolnes 88

My commission Expires Jan. 21, 1912. K. L. Tanner, F. M. Ware, J. W. Cocking, Directors.

and good drivers. W. P. Kincaid.

Have

A new and up-to-date line of odd trousers and to make you look welldressed with them, you should wear a nice pair of the "Crossett" Oxford. Also Ladies' Oxfords, Vici Kid, Patent Leather and Swede.

"Clothing."

When you buy cloth is from us. you can rest assured that you are in perfect style.

Our hat department is now more complete than ever. We have to show you the new Milan Straw Yacht and Panama Call around before you buy.

SAM ROBINSON. STANFORD, KY.

...... Get My Price On House Paint.

Heeeeeeeee H bobbbbbbbbbbb

Screen Wire Cloth, Cultivators, Hoes and and other farming implements.

代多汉英语诗

L. L. SANDERS,

Crab Orchard, Kentuciy.

It you have anything t !!

in the

Nunnelley's New Stock Yards.

He buyeand sels every day in the year except Sunday. Bring on your stock. Best market in the State with plenty of eed and water best covered pens, outside of Louisville or Lexington.

STANFORD, KY. We also do a general hitch and feed business.

W. L. M'CARTY, Pres. E. C. WALTON, V-Pres. L. R. HUGHES, S. & T

Stanford Real Estate Co.,

Stanford, Kentucky.

Farms and Town Property Handled on Commission. Stocks and Bonds Sold. If you Have Property to Sell or Reut Notify Us. Write for Circular to

L. R. HUGHES, Secretary, Stanford, Ky.

李爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷爷

..... The Winning Feature of The

OVERLANDCAR

.... Is Its Simplicity

Anyone Can Learn to Run it For it Operates on Only Three Gears.

THE REAL PROPERTY.

It's the Auto for all the Family for any Girl or Woman can Run it as Easily as a Man. Just Let us Prove this to You.

C.P. Cecil, Walter Dunn AGENTS.

Phone us For Free Demonstration.

Danville, Ky.

Undertaker and Enbalmer STANFORD, . KY. och Phone 147, 60 YEARS'

Scientific American.

SUNDAY JULY 17 SPECIAL TRAIN Lv. Junction City 5:56 A. M. ASK TICKET AGENT FOR PARTICULARS